Senate Kills Ike Bill On Civil Rights

Kennedy, Johnson Vote To Have Measure Tabled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic-controlled Senate, in a stormy preview of the 1960 political campaign, killed President Eisenhower's new civil rights bill today shortly after it was introduced by the GOP leadership.

Both Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy and his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, voted to kill the measure.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Senate presiding officer and GOP presidential nominee, was not present during the vote. Nixon votes only in case of a tie.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) introduced the rights legislation which the president recommended in a special congressional message only yesterday. (Earlier story on page 12.)

POLITICS CHARGED

Democrats accused the Republicans of "politics," and Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) — a strong proponent of civil rights legislation — moved to table and thus kill the bill for this session of Congress.

Clark's motion was quickly put to a roll call vote on demand of Senate Democratic Leader Johnson.

The motion carried by a vote of 54 to 28. Johnson had warned earlier that Congress would accomplish little this year if it got tied up in a "political flurry" of bills which would cause lengthy debate. He obviously referred to civil rights among such measures.

BYPASS ATTEMPTED

Dirksen had attempted to get the civil rights bill placed directly on the calendar for Senate debate, bypassing consideration by the judiciary committee.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), the Democratic national chairman, joined his party's standard bearers in voting to table the rights bill. The GOP national chairman, Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.), voted against tabling.

A breakdown of the announced vote showed 52 Democrats and two Republicans — Sens. John J. Williams of Delaware and Milton R. Young of North Dakota — voted to table, while 24 Republicans and four Democrats — Sens. Paul H. Douglas (Ill.), Philip Hart (Mich.), Wayne Morse (Ore.) and Pat McNamara (Mich.) — voted against killing the GOP measure.

Both provisions in Dirksen's bill came before the Senate in the form of amendments to the civil rights bill passed in April. Both were killed at that time with a majority of Republicans voting to shelve them.

For two years he was directed by CIOCCA, page 8

Kennedy Gets Approval Of Picketing Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) steered a hotly contested picketing bill to swift approval by a Senate subcommittee today after a brief brush with Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Goldwater objected, on the ground there was no quorum, to Kennedy's calling the Labor subcommittee into session. But Goldwater, an opponent of the bill, stayed out of the hearing room where his presence would have made a quorum.

Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee and chairman of the subcommittee, promised organized labor last year that he would push for legislation relaxing restrictions against picketing of construction projects.

The legislation would overrule a 1952 Supreme Court ruling banning picketing of construction projects where

War Threat Spurs Congo Pullout Vote

Security Council Asks Immediate Action By Belgium

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Warned that world war might erupt if the Congo crisis is not solved, the Security Council early today called for Belgian troops to give way to U.N. forces immediately in secessionist Katanga province.

In a resolution sponsored by Ceylon and Tunisia and adopted 9-0, the 11-nation council authorized Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to arrange the changeover and asked him to report back.

TWO ABSTAIN

France and Italy abstained. The 4 a.m. vote climaxed an urgent overnight session that lasted for 1½ hours.

Hammarskjöld, who gave the world war warning, planned to leave after midnight tonight to fly back to the Congo, where Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga last week balked the entry of U.N. troops into his mineral-rich province in the southeast Congo.

The resolution sought to quiet Tshombe's fears that U.N. troops would be used to bring Katanga under the control of the central Congo government head by Patrice Lumumba.

NO 'INFLUENCE'

It specified that the 12,000-man force would not "be used to influence the outcome of any internal conflict."

The resolution was in line with suggestions made by Hammarskjöld. It followed up the council's July 14 and 22 decisions that Belgium should pull its troops out of the Congo. It called upon Belgium to withdraw them immediately from Katanga—the only one of the six Congo provinces where they remain outside their bases—and to do so "under speedy modalities determined by the secretary-general."

The Soviet Union, after supporting the resolution, did not press for a vote on a resolution of its own that implied the use of force if necessary to get U.N. troops into Katanga.

Congo Premier Declares State Of Emergency

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Premier Patrice Lumumba declared a state of emergency in the Congo today, and threatened to invade secessionist Katanga province.

He called his infant Congo army back to regular duty and said that African nations' soldiers were ready to help drive the Belgians from the rich province to the southeast.

U.N. SHUNNED

Neither the Congo nor its rebellious province paid much attention to a United Nations resolution adopted in the early morning hours calling for Belgian soldiers to get out of Katanga.

Moise Tshombe, Katanga's premier, said he still is opposed to the entrance of a U.N. force despite assurances in the resolution that the force will not interfere in politics.

A Belgian official in Brussels said Belgium would comply with the U.N. Security Council request that Belgian soldiers be taken out of all the Congo, including Katanga. But he said the withdrawal would be accomplished only as the safety of Belgian citizens still in the Congo is assured.

RIFLES TURNED OVER

While the Belgians were giving these assurances, a dispatch from the Katanga capital of Elisabethville said the Belgian army turned over a truckload of old single-shot rifles to 200 tribal chiefs loyal to Tshombe.

A spokesman for Tshombe said, however: "We are not arming the tribes or anything like that. The rifles are just gifts to chiefs from Tshombe." But Tshombe has said the tribes will rally to his support

ICBM Fired On 7,000-Mile Atlantic Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Air Force fired an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile today on an intended 7,000-mile flight — second longest ICBM shot ever attempted over the Atlantic missile range.

The Atlas aimed a dummy warhead at a target in the South Atlantic, south of British-held St. Helena island off the west coast of Africa.

The giant rocket thundered off its pad at 1:09 p.m. Another Atlas flew 9,000 miles last May 20 to the Indian Ocean off the tip of Africa.

Main purpose of the flight today, the Air Force said, was to show the "versatility" of the Atlas.

The Atlas, carrying about 1,000 pounds of test equipment in its 12-foot Mark III nose cone, rose smoothly in a gush of smoke and flame. It picked up speed and arched to the southeast as its 360,000-pound-thrust engines built up full power.

The 85-foot rocket appeared to be traveling normally as it passed the 65-second mark — the point where another Atlas booster blew up about two weeks ago with an instrumented Project Mercury man-in-space capsule on its nose.

Within five minutes, the missile had disappeared high in a blue sky.

The slender nose cone was supposed to make the long hop in about 40 minutes, soaring about 700 miles above the earth at a speed of more than 17,000 statute miles per hour.

Tracking planes and ships were stationed near the target area to study the nose cone as it plunged back to earth. However, the Air Force said there would be no attempt to recover either the nose cone

2 BOYS FIND ALLIGATOR IN RENO LAKE

RENO (AP) — A two-foot alligator was discovered in a city lake today by two youngsters fishing for bluegill. "He was sunning himself on a rock and we almost stepped on him," said Craig Roberts, 12. Craig was accompanied by his 10-year-old brother Greg.

A city park official said it was the first alligator ever found in the man-made Virginia Lake—or in Reno for that matter—in his recollection.

He speculated someone brought it to Reno and threw it in the lake, surrounded by fashionable homes, as a joke. What will the park department do with an alligator?

"I don't know but we're going to feed it something. It's starving," said the spokesman.

State Grants School Loan For Larkspur

The State Allocations Board today approved an $857,467.21 loan to the Larkspur School District to build a new school near Paradise Drive.

Dist. Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel reported the board's action by telephone from Sacramento.

The state loan will be augmented by $221,000 from a bond issue approved by Larkspur district voters last May. The district plans an 11-classroom school, plus science room, library, multi-use room and offices, to serve kindergarten through eighth grade for children east of Highway 101.

A 10.4-acre site immediately north of Paradise Drive has been selected.

DELAYED HALF HOUR

Felon Gets His Wish, Dies In Gas Chamber

Robert S. Harmon, 27, got his wish to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber today, but the American Civil Liberties Union delayed the execution a half hour.

Harmon was sentenced to death for a knife attack on a fellow inmate of Soledad Prison while serving a sentence of 10 years to life for robbery in San Diego County.

Spurring efforts in his behalf, Harmon several times wrote Gov. Edmund G. Brown asking that he be allowed to die for his crime because he had an urge to kill. He had warned of such an urge before the stabbing at Soledad.

A group opposed to capital punishment, led by Mrs. Kalla Kahn of 91-A Santa Rosa Ave.,

Sausalito, hired an attorney for Harmon. He refused to see the lawyer.

But this morning, he told Warden Fred R. Dickson that perhaps his execution "will help do away with capital punishment."

Albert M. Bandich, American Civil Liberties Union attorney, made a last-minute plea to the California Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus. The court held up the execution while it considered the plea. But at 10:20 a.m.—20 minutes after Harmon was to have entered the gas chamber—the court notified Warden Dickson to proceed.

At 10:38 a.m., the lethal pellets were dropped. At 10:47, Harmon was pronounced dead.

Army Unit Seizes Control Of Laos

Rebels Out To Oust Foreigners

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — A paratroop battalion of the Royal Laotian Army announced today it had seized "all civil and military powers" in a bloodless revolution and said it would "sweep out" all foreign bases from the southeast Asian jungle kingdom.

The revolutionary group asserted it had overthrown the pro-Western government of Laos in a series of four communiques broadcast over Vientiane Radio.

VOWS NEUTRALITY

The communiques promised to safeguard and maintain this landlocked nation's neutrality. They were signed by the commander of the Second Paratroop Battalion, Capt. Vong Le.

One broadcast communique ordered foreign military personnel—both U.S. and French military advisory groups are in Laos—to stay away from revolutionary party forces. They were ordered to "await negotiations."

Reports reaching Saigon indicated that most members of the ousted government of Premier Tiao Somsanth were in the royal capital of Luang Prabang, Vientiane, the administrative capital of the land-locked kingdom, was reported quiet.

AID FROM WEST

The insurgent communiques indicated that the new "revolutionary committee" favored a policy of neutrality and willingness to accept economic aid from all nations. Laos had been receiving aid only from Western nations, much of it from the United States.

The military communiques listed the following objectives of the revolution:

Abolition of foreign bases in Laos.

Elimination of corruption.

Prevention of foreign "infiltration" into Laotian affairs.

Reorganization of the parliamentary system.

Raising of living standards.

Acceptance of "economic and cultural air from all nations."

MILITARY GROUP

The United States maintains a small military group in Laos that helps train the Laotian armed forces.

There were conflicting reports regarding the political leanings of the revolutionary leaders. Early reports reaching Bangkok, Thailand, said the coup was leftist inspired. Later, usually well informed sources in Singapore said the revolutionary committee appeared to be from a right wing faction.

A state of emergency was declared by the revolutionary high command. Airfields were closed and freight service to Thailand was reported halted. Some families fled across the dry bed of the Mekong River into Thailand, seeking political refuge.

SPYING CHARGE

Russ Say Powers Has Pleaded Guilty

MOSCOW (AP) — Francis Gary Powers has "pleaded guilty to the substance of the charge" that he spied on the Soviet Union in his U-2 plane, the news agency Tass said today.

Tass said the guilt of the American flier, due to go on trial here Aug. 17, "is confirmed by material and written evidence," the findings of experts and the testimony of witnesses.

In Washington, Powers' father, Oliver W. Powers of Pound,

Va., told a reporter the report could mean anything or "practically nothing."

"You can hear anything in the world," he said.

Powers and his wife were visiting a daughter in Falls Church, Va., en route to Moscow for their son's trial. The father said they hoped they might be able to do something "at least we can tell the American people what kind of chance he had."

The indictment against Powers, who parachuted from his crippled plane in the Urals May 1, was reported to total about 4,000 words.

INDICTMENT DRAWN UP Tass said the indictment was drawn up by the state security committee and was approved July 9 by Roman Rudenko, U.S.S.R. prosecutor general.

It accuses Powers of "having been engaged in active espionage against the Soviet Union, which represents a manifestation of the aggressive policy followed by the U.S. government."

Powers' high-flying plane came down near Sverdlovsk, east of Moscow. The Soviet version is that it was felled by an anti-aircraft rocket.

POWERS 'INTRUDED'

According to the indictment, Tass said, Powers "intruded into the airspace of the U.S.S.R. for the purpose of collecting intelligence of strategic nature on the location of rocket bases, airfields, radar network and other highly important defense and industrial objectives of the U.S.S.R."

Tass said Powers is accused under Soviet law "on criminal responsibilities for state crimes."

The crime of which the Pound, Va., flier is accused carries a penalty ranging from seven years imprisonment to death by shooting.

Mrs. Epidendio Asks Larkspur Council Post

Mrs. Jane Epidendio, who failed of election to the Larkspur City Council by five votes in April, has not given up.

Mrs. Epidendio yesterday addressed to the council a letter asking that she be considered to replace H. H. (Steve) Wheeler, Larkspur mayor who on Saturday announced his resignation to move to Los Angeles.

"My sponsors are the voters of the City of Larkspur," wrote Mrs. Epidendio. "Having received 519 votes in the municipal election of April, 1960, I lost the council position by only five votes. Fairfax had the same situation this year when a council member resigned. I noticed they handed the appointment to the next candidate following the lowest member elected to the council."

Mrs. Epidendio, who, with her husband, operates the Rainbow Market, also declared in her letter that "Larkspur business people have no representation on the council."

In the spring campaign, Mrs. Epidendio advocated reinstatement of Fire Chief John Raggio and removal of City Manager Ronald E. Piper, who discharged the fire chief. Two of the three successful candidates, Lesly A. Daveler and James Lienkaemper, took a middle-of-the-road position in the row over Raggio's firing.

Daniel Allen, only incumbent to win re-election, backed the city manager solidly.

Trailer Park Approved In Industrial Area

A somewhat discouraging staff report on a proposal for a trailer park in an otherwise industrial area of South San Rafael was overridden, and a use permit granted by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

An earlier use permit for most of the property had been granted to the same applicant, Scenic Investment Co., Inc. The new permit was approved 4-1. Commissioner Margaret Azevedo declared, "I'm against such zoning for industrial areas."

Attorney Robert W. Elliott, for the petitioners, said 108 units would be placed on a total of eight acres, allowing about 3,000 square feet apiece. This included 1.2 acres not included in the earlier permit.

The site is 750 feet south of the Auburn-Simms Streets intersection between the Auburn Street extension and an abandoned Northwestern Pacific right-of-way.

PRIME LAND

A staff report said the site is "prime industrial land" of a sort considered in short supply and to which the county looks for more favorable tax balance. It noted that industry is discouraged by proximity of residential land use.

"It's not a suitable location for a trailer park," said principal planner David Van Pelt. He urged that if the permit were granted, a condition should be improvement of half of Auburn Road along the project frontage to full county standards for 60-foot right of way.

DELAY WANTED

The commission modified this to allow delay until adjacent property owners make similar road improvements. The permit was granted for 10 years with architectural limitations.

The commission also:

1. Approved plans for a 10-unit apartment house on Calle Del Embarcadero, Stinson Beach, for Charles J. Hendrickson.
2. Heard many objections to rezoning two acres from single-family to multiple residence near Homestead Boulevard and Morning Sun Avenue, Mill Valley, and continued consideration to Aug. 22.
3. Approved Charles Tijerina's application to erect a two-story commercial building on Tiburon Boulevard between Beach Road and Main Street, Tiburon.
4. Approved plans for a 14-unit apartment house to be built by San Rafael Associates on Carota Circle near Reed Boulevard, Alto, on condition that it be at least 20 feet from an adjacent existing structure.

Women Are Safer

LONDON (AP)—A British insurance company survey says it has shown that British women are safer drivers than men. The company is cutting liability premiums for women drivers at least 10 per cent.

A company spokesman said men can get the discount if they can prove their wives or daughters do most of the driving.

69 Missing In Storm

MANILA (UP)—Sixty-nine persons were reported missing today in storms battering the Philippines for the fifth consecutive day, and at least 30 of them were believed to have drowned.

Most of those believed dead were crewmen of fishing vessels sunk by strong winds and heavy seas.

In inland areas, floods following heavy rains inflicted thousands of dollars damage on crops and other property.

Marconi Hotel Plan Expanded At Hearing

James A. Jeffery has expanded his plans for the principal building of the former Marconi radio station group at Marshall, requiring a new application for use permit to include public hotel as well as the originally contemplated residence club, the Marin County Planning Commission learned yesterday.

When the application on use permit as a club came up with support of a favorable staff report, Sidney E. Shaw of the planning staff said he had been told of the developer's more comprehensive ideas. He recommended the matter be continued to allow advertising of application on the new basis and preparation of a revised staff report.

The commission accordingly set another hearing for Aug. 22 after hearing a glowing description of the merits of the historic premises by its present owner, Dr. Carlos Fernandes, Oakland physician and former Portuguese consul.

"People have said I am goofy to spend so much money on this," said Dr. Fernandes, "but it is a wonderful place."

Shaw said the building "was built to last forever and is in perfect shape, needing only some cleaning, painting and furniture."

But Jeffery would like to use the club as a hotel with possible restaurant and cocktail lounge open to the public, Shaw said, requiring new study.

Blaze Causes $3,000 Damage

A fire last night on the rear service porch of the R. O. Boyer residence at 8 Upper Toyon, Kentfield, resulted in damage estimated at $1,000 and smoke damage of $2,000 to the house.

The Boyers turned in an alarm at 10:10 p.m. Three fire trucks with 25 men under Kentfield Fire Chief M. L. McLeran had the porch blaze under control in five minutes. Firemen said the fire probably was caused by a cigarette left in a trash can on the porch.

HEARING ON 101 PLANS

San Rafael-Olema Highway Enters Freeway Discussion

The future San Rafael-Olema highway bulked large last night in a public discussion of plans for widening Highway 101 through San Rafael.

Also repeatedly raised at the meeting, which drew a crowd that three-fourths filled the San Rafael High School auditorium, was the problem of road connections to carry traffic to and from mushrooming East San Rafael without adding to the Second-to-Fourth Streets, Grand-to-Lincoln Avenues congestion around the city's major entrance interchange.

Three representatives of the California Division of Highways said they expect the San Rafael-Olema route to be chosen before the San Rafael widening project gets into construction.

As to connections to divert East San Rafael traffic via the San Quentin Wye, the state engineers insisted that is a city and county problem.

Quite a few other matters, it appeared, will become very definite city problems if and when the highway widening gets under way.

The meeting was presided over by Vice Mayor Charles W. Ahly because of illness of Mayor John F. McInnis. Only three city councilmen were present, with Fred Jensen the second absentee.

The division of highways was represented by J. P. Sinclair, assistant highway engineer; R. A. Hayler, district engineer, and Bert Crowell of the division's planning staff. T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant state director of public works, was also present, but only listened.

Much of the two and one-half hour meeting was taken up with questions by individuals about what would happen to their own properties or those of their neighbors.

An unidentified woman near the back of the hall got the biggest hand of the night when she arose to declare: "Everyone seems to be basing their questions on single, small properties. Nobody seems interested in what happens to San Rafael in general."

In general, said Sinclair in his opening remarks, the state plans to spend about 14 million dollars to widen 2.3 miles of highway through San Rafael to eight lanes, with a 22-foot center divider; redesigning the present Third-and-Irwin interchange through relocating on and off-ramps, closing Irwin Street on both sides of the structure, and moving Francisco Boulevard some 70 feet back on the east side of the highway.

A single plan has the highway division engineers' approval for the stretch from San Quentin Wye to the end of the viaduct above Mission Avenue. But the engineers are still undecided between two plans for the stretch from the viaduct north to Puerto Suello Hill. They slightly favor "plan C-5," which calls for widening on both sides of the present route. It is estimated to cost $14,200,000 and would go through 88 parcels of improved property.

The other plan for this stretch still being considered ("C-4") is estimated to cost a little less — $13,900,000 — but would take 92 parcels of improved property. It would put nearly all the widening to the west of the present road.

Neither of these plans would take any property from Coleman School or Dominican College. Plan C-4 would take a 15-foot strip from the Marist Fathers seminary property; C-5, about a half acre. However, Hayler said the Marist Fathers have approved the latter plan.

Irwin Street would become a one-way street west of the interchange, feeding traffic onto Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Mission. A bridge across the San Rafael Canal would connect with Grand Avenue to make it a major feeder route. But the highway engineers insisted they lack the authority to bridge the canal farther south to provide a connection for a road to the McNear's Ranch developments.

Ramps connecting with Route 69—the number given the San Rafael-Olema highway—are shown in broken lines on the plan for the interchange. One of these would be at a third elevated level, making the interchange about 50 feet high, Hayler explained. If Route 69 does not connect at that point, the interchange would remain at its present height, with ramps connecting to city streets in the Bret Harte area.

Paul Ciampi, who owns business property at Third and Lincoln Streets, pointed out that closing Irwin Street at the interchange would force traffic now using that route onto the Lincoln Avenue extension. "Lincoln Avenue couldn't possibly handle it," he claimed. "You would have automobiles waiting beyond Woodland Avenue."

Sinclair differed, claiming the new traffic pattern would provide a wider choice so not so many cars would be using the route.

Mrs. Anita Strom of 260 Linden Lane urged that the city council employ expert technical help before approving any plan for the highway. "Aby said the city's own engineering and public works departments would study the plans "and we're probably going to require technical help."

"Your engineering department is extremely busy handling their own problems," shot back Mrs. Strom.

This drew from Councilman Louis H. Baar the observation that the plans should have been gone over by planning commission and engineering department before holding public hearings. "I think it's going backwards," said Baar. His remark brought a round of applause.

Sinclair then recited some history of the project. He said the study started in December, 1957, and highway engineers held their first meeting with the city's technical staff the following month and their first meeting with the planning commission in March, 1958. "We're about on schedule," he commented, predicting at least four more years will elapse before construction starts.

J. B. Rice, who has pressed a "do it now" argument on two previous occasions, declared he and other Francisco Boulevard property owners are ready to tear down or move their buildings to make way for the highway widening "although they have a fortune involved."

He urged, to applause, that a plan be speedily approved and pressure applied to get construction started. "It was after his remarks that the woman arose near the back of the hall to remark that "nobody seems interested in what happens to San Rafael in general."

Pleas Entered In Boat Case

Richard O. Hamilton, 22, and Robert L. Johnson, 27, pleaded innocent to grand theft charges before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Both are accused with attempting to steal a boat and trailer from the Anchorage dock at 115 Third Street, San Rafael.

Their preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 24.

Hamilton lives at 402 Leasure Lane, Novato, Johnson at 279 Bayside Acres, San Rafael.

The move followed a decree issued by Castro Sunday appropriating about 700 million dollars worth of U.S.-owned properties, including the big Cuban Electric Co. and two big oil refineries.

U.S. NOTE
There was no immediate government reaction to a U.S. note protesting the seizure of the American properties.

Today's decree provided that the production, distribution and sale of oil and electric power shall in the future be monopolized by the government—except that users' cooperatives may in some cases engage in distribution and sales activities.

The cabinet also ratified cultural, scientific and technical treaties with Red China, Poland and Yugoslavia and trade pacts with the United Arab Republic and Japan.

ALL-NIGHT SESSION
President Osvaldo Dorticos occupied the chair at the all-night cabinet meeting in place of the ailing Castro, who was reported resting somewhere in Pinar Del Rio province.

The Cuban government also set up a National Institute of Mining, a step that could be preliminary to seizure of U.S. mining properties that escaped the nationalization of most American holdings in Cuba.

A decree announced after the marathon cabinet session said the mining institute was empowered to "plan investigation and development of mineral production." The institute was made a division of the Industrialization Department of the National Institute of Agrarian Reform.

The largest mining interests in Cuba are the Moa Bay Mining Co. (nickel), now shut down because its American owners say they cannot make a profit under Cuban mineral export laws, and the Nicaro Nickel plant, owned by the U.S. government. Officials of both companies are negotiating with the Cuban government over their future.

Cuba Accused Of Abuse In Mail Privileges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today accused Cuba of misusing its postal franking privileges by mailing anti-American propaganda to individuals in the United States.

Summerfield announced that he has requested the Cuban government to stop dispatching such mail "immediately." He said free postal service was limited to official government correspondence by an inter-American franking agreement signed in Bogota, Colombia, in 1955.

He said the Post Office Department had received many complaints from American citizens that the Castro government was sending them publications which are untrue, abusive, unsubstantiated, provocative and hostile to the United States.

The Cuban mail clearly constitutes an "attack on the economic policy and integrity" of the U. S. government, Summerfield said.

In his complaint to the Customs made public here today, ban minister of communication Summerfield said: "I profoundly hope that after you call this matter to the attention of the Cuban central government there will be no further violations."

Like Good Food? You'll Like This Dressing

Your first questioning taste tells you there's something delightfully, deliciously different about Girard's Wine Vinegar French Dressing.

Its secret is the way 11 freshly ground spices are blended with a prize-winning dry Burgundy wine vinegar. They give it a tongue-tingling flavor you will find in no other dressing. Try Girard's today.

Mail Delivered — 20 Years Later

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—On March 7, 1941, Harriet Severns of Clinton sent a picture postcard from Mount Eagle, Tenn., to Jeannie Wilson, a friend in Clinton.

The postcard was delivered yesterday, nearly 20 years later. But Miss Wilson died 11 years ago.

Who received the card? Mrs. Severns, who inherited Miss Wilson's house.

$2,000 PLASTIC SURGERY JOB?

These are before (left) and after (right) photos of convict Edward Muza, who had his nose and ears straightened while in San Quentin Prison after being convicted of robbery in Los Angeles. He won a new trial, and Los Angeles officials claimed he had the plastic surgery done to alter his appearance so he would not be identified by his victims. If so, his plan failed, for he was again found guilty last week. Deputy Dist. Atty. Simon Rose of Los Angeles called it "a $2,000 face lifting job." Prison officials called it a rehabilitation project. Many such operations have been performed at San Quentin, said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady. (AP Wirephotos)

Army Announces 'Copter Set Seven World Records

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army says one of its helicopters set seven world records last month, including three formerly held by Russia.

The records were set over an eight-day period ended July 26. They were announced yesterday when Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, presented the Distinguished Flying Cross to the crew members of the helicopter, a HU-1 Iroquois.

The new records:
Non-stop distance flight in a closed circuit for helicopters in the Iroquois class — 441.74 miles, beating the Russian 345.1-mile record.
Five hundred kilometer speed—148.45 m.p.h., beating the Russian 122.2 m.p.h.
One hundred kilometer speed—142.2, beating the Russian 130.8 m.p.h.
Time-to-climb to 3,000 meters or 9,843 feet—3 minutes, 22.4 seconds, beating the French record of 5 minutes, 30.6 seconds.

Time-to-climb to 6,000 meters or 19,685 feet—8 minutes, 10.2 seconds, beating the French 11 minutes, 0.1 seconds.

Five hundred kilometer speed for any helicopter regardless of weight class—148.45 m.p.h., topping an Army-held record of 136.02 m.p.h.

Three kilometer speed for helicopters in the Iroquois class—158.05 m.p.h., automatically setting a record in a new category.

Vote Favors Giving City Novato Club

Members of the Novato Community Club at a meeting last night voted to give their clubhouse to the City of Novato by Sept. 20—with a string attached.

The members approved by 18-to-8 a motion from the floor to amend the bylaws "to present the building to the city for use as a civic center and municipal auditorium under the control of a recreation commission."

They then voted 21-0 that the clubhouse be turned over to the city by Sept. 20, and that if the club corporation should be dissolved by vote of 75 per cent of the membership, proceeds from sale of its property would go to the city.

Club president George Wahl had declared in advance that last night's meeting was invalid. He so notified club members by letter.

Member Alfred Bowman, who called the meeting, said many club members probably stayed away because of Wahl's notice. About 50 people attended the two-hour meeting in the clubhouse, but only 24 voted on one proposal and 21 on the others. This number is sufficient for action under the club's bylaws, however.

Another meeting, called by Wahl, is set for Aug. 22. At it, he said, proposed amendments to the by laws for turning the clubhouse over to the city and for retaining it will be offered.

Wahl already has been instructed by directors to discuss informally with the city council joint use of the clubhouse by city and community groups, the community club specifically.

Wahl said today he had talked with Councilman John Angeloni, a member of the finance committee with M. E. (Babe) Silva, and agreed to put off city-club discussion until after the Aug. 22 club meeting.

Wahl said today that "much more concrete, specific, much more binding" amendments would be needed to bring city-club joint use of the clubhouse. He added that he doubted the validity of introducing a motion from the floor at last night's meeting, which was called specifically to vote on previously proposed amendments.

The vote did show that "a good section of the community club is in favor of retaining the rights, not giving them to the city with no strings," Wahl said.

The amendments approved 21-0 last night were proposed by Bowman, informal leader of a group of self-styled "old timers" who say the original intent of the club, when members donated to pay off the clubhouse mortgage in 1947, was to turn the property to the city whenever Novato incorporated.

Mrs. Robert Merritt, a director of the club, presided at the meeting last night. Wahl had said previously that he would not preside.

Mrs. Merritt brought the wrangle into the open when she appeared before the city council meeting in May. The garden section of the club had instructed her to appear to push toward bringing the clubhouse question to a membership vote, she told the council.

Poet Dies At 76

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Harry Kemp, 76, poet who was a contemporary and intimate friend of the late Eugene O'Neill, died yesterday after a long illness. Kemp was a founder of the Provincetown Players, one of the first summer theater groups.

HOOVER BLASTS RELIGION ISSUE IN CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Herbert Hoover, who in 1928 defeated the first Roman Catholic ever to run for the United States presidency, reaffirmed today that he abhorred bigotry, and said it would be "just a dreadful idea" to inject the religious issue in the present campaign.

The former president spoke out vehemently when the question was raised at birthday anniversary news conference. He will be 86 tomorrow.

Hoover in 1928 was the Republican nominee against Alfred E. Smith of New York, a Catholic, the Democratic candidate. This year's Democratic candidate, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, is the second Catholic in history to seek the presidency.

Incorporation Study Urged In Marin City

A study of incorporation of Marin City was proposed last night as one of this year's goals for the Marin City Tenant Council.

Daniel Hayden, the council's new chairman, said members feel it is worth looking into. No action was taken last night.

An immediate project, Hayden said, will be to study the Scheuer contract for Marin City redevelopment.

The council agreed unanimously to ask for a revision of the constitution to enlarge the council from the present five members to nine. This, Hayden said, would have to be passed on by the people of Marin City.

A conference with the Marin City Community Services District to work out ways to be of service to the tenant council and vice versa is planned.

Prisoners Locked Up To Prevent Violence

BALTIMORE (AP) — Striking inmates of three Maryland prisons stayed locked in their cells today, even for meals, to prevent any violence over a ruling against them.

They whooped and yelled in anger for 15 minutes last night—some shouting "No work!"—when Supt. of Prisons James W. Curran disclosed that outside trustees no longer would have their sentences reduced by one day for each day of work.

The State Board of Correction had ruled effective Aug. 1 that prisoners doing such outside work as road labor would get that time cut from their prison terms, a day for a day, up to five days a month.

The men who do work inside the walls, such as laundry, sewing and shoe making, began a no-work strike in protest.

It began at the House of Correction between here and Washington. By Monday it had spread to the Maryland Penitentiary in Baltimore, and the Reformatory for Males at Hagerstown in western Maryland, involving 1,450 prisoners in all.

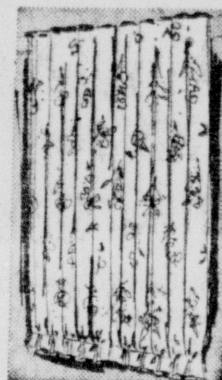

Then the attorney general ruled the outside work time-off was illegal. It was decided to rescind the decision at a tense, five-hour meeting of Curran with members of the board, wardens of the prisons, an aide of Gov. J. Millard Tawes and State Police Supt. Carey Jarman.

The reversal was kept secret from the prisoners until 9 o'clock, when all of them were locked in their cells for the night.

By then troops of state and city police had been alerted or sent into areas near the prisons.

Statement of Policy Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved.

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

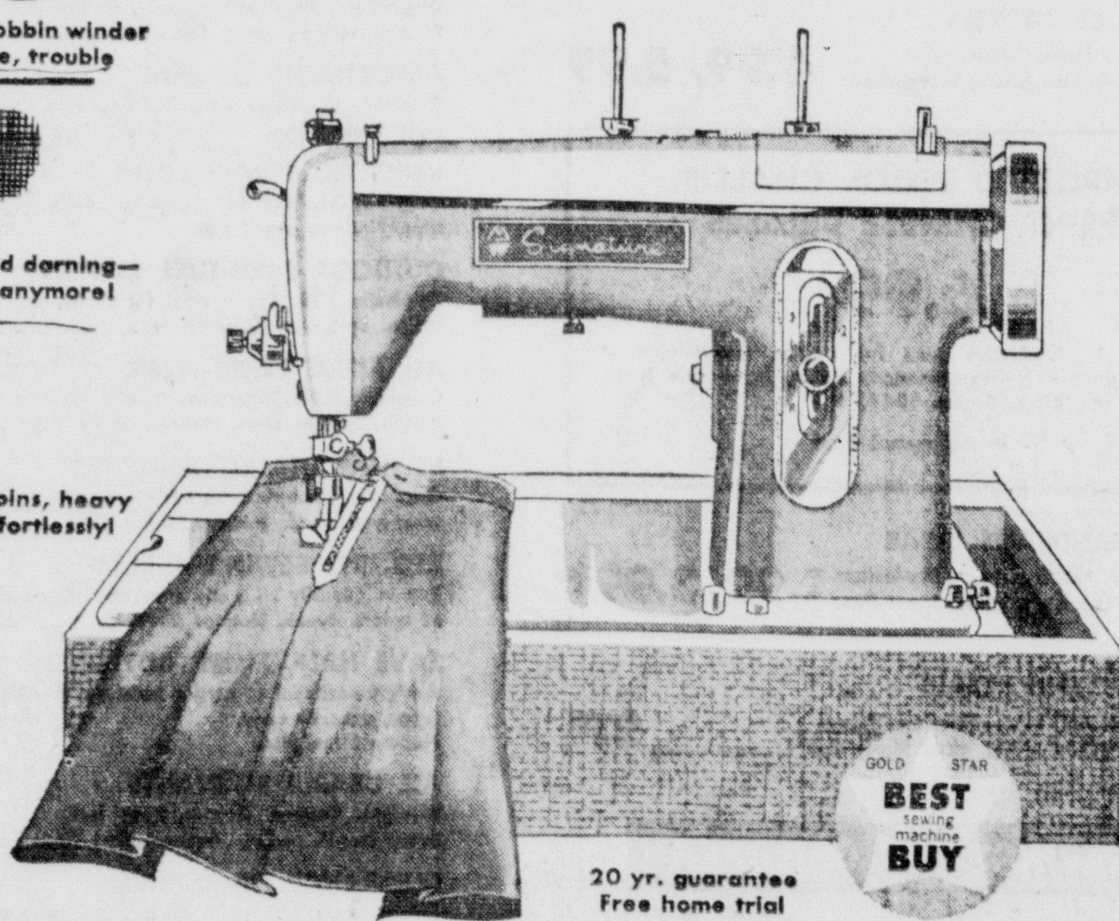

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Scout, 17, Wants To Go To Greenland

A 17-year-old Marin Explorer Scout is dreaming of following in the footsteps of scientist Paul Siple, who got his start as a Boy Scout accompanying one of Adm. Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expeditions.

The Marinite is Norman Rockwell Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Hansen of 15 Hansen Road, Novato. He has been chosen by the Marin Boy Scout Council as its candidate to accompany the Army Corps of Engineers expedition to Camp Century, Greenland, next winter.

Only one Boy Scout may make the trip, so Norman's chances may appear a bit remote. But he's hopeful.

"You can only get one chance at something like that," he commented. "It would be valuable experience working with the scientists."

Siple found it extremely valuable experience when he accompanied the Byrd expedition. He went on to a noted career in science and is a member of the national council of the Boy Scouts of America.

PLANS COLLEGE

Norman was graduated from Novato High School last June. He plans to attend College of Marin this fall—unless he goes to Greenland. He hopes to go on to the study of biochemistry.

Norman is an Eagle Scout, president of the Novato Explorer Post. He was a camp counselor at the Marin Sierra Scout camp last year and has attended camp each summer since 1955.

The Army Engineers' expedition to Camp Century will leave the United States around Oct. 15 and return next April 15.

Temperatures at Camp Century drop to as low as 60 degrees below zero. Sixty-five officers and enlisted men plus about 50 civilians—and one Boy Scout—will do engineering and scientific studies at the far north camp.

It would be particularly appropriate if a Marin scout were chosen for the Greenland trip, as much of the exploration which laid the groundwork for the Camp Century project was done for the United States government by Louise A. Boyd, San Rafael's woman polar explorer.

Defense Critic Takes New Job

LA JOLLA (UPI)—Thomas G. Lanphier Jr., 44, who five months ago quit a $50,000 yearly job so he could spend full time criticizing the government's national defense policy, announced yesterday he will become vice president of Fairbanks Whitney Corp.

Lanphier, formerly assistant to the president of Convair, maker of the nation's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, said in his new post he will be responsible for development of planning for the products of the New York firm's subsidiaries.

Alaska Voting On Location Of State Capital

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Today is election day in Alaska. However, the biggest item on the ballot isn't any battle between personalities. Instead, it concerns an initiative—where the state's capital will be located.

An estimated 30,000 voters are expected to go to the polls to decide if the capital should remain at Juneau or be moved to Anchorage. The vote is expected to be at least 10,000 tallies less than the number recorded in November, 1958, when Alaskans decided to join the union.

Also at stake in the election, designated as the state's primary, are party nominations for the U.S. Senate, the U.S. House of Representatives and 50 seats in the 60-seat state legislature.

Alaska's Senior Sen. E. L. Bartlett is opposed for the Democratic party nomination. Running for the Republican backing are Lawrence Brayton, a Fairbanks union official, and Dr. Lee McKinley, an Anchorage area dentist.

The spire of Salisbury Cathedral (404 feet) is the highest structure in England.

Two More Top Aides Defect From Cuba

HAVANA (UP) — A government announcement disclosed today that two more important collaborators of the Fidel Castro regime have defected. They were identified as Felipe Pazos, former president of the Cuban National Bank, and Col. Ramon Barquin Lopez, a hero of the revolutionary struggle which overthrew the Batista regime in January, 1959. The government disclosure of their defection came in the form of an announcement they had been "ousted." All prior defections have similarly been "ousted" after they walked out on their government jobs. The government announcement on Pazos, an economic ambassador with a roving assignment in Europe, said he had "ceased" to be a special envoy. The internationally known economist stepped out of the national bank job last November in dissatisfaction with government financial policies and was succeeded by left Argentine-born Ernesto Guevara. A foreign ministry statement said the permanent Cuban military mission in Western Europe headed by Barquin had been "dissolved." Barquin, a former Cuban military attaché in Washington and a member of the Inter-American Defense Board, was in prison serving a sedition sentence when Castro troops entered Havana in January, 1959. Barquin took over command of Camp Columbia briefly after the triumph of the revolution.

CUSTOMS 'BRUTAL'

Dr. Moore Says She Will Complain To U.S. Embassy

LONDON (UP)—Barbara Moore, Britain's walking woman, denounced the U.S. Customs Service today as "absolutely brutal and unreasonable."

Home from America by air after a choleric run-in with the customs people in San Francisco, Dr. Moore told airport reporters:

"I shall protest to the U.S. embassy in person. I was ill-treated."

The 57-year-old, Russian-born hiker and vegetarian was en route to Britain from Australia when she ran afoul of quarantine regulations barring uninspected fruits and vegetables from the United States.

In the ensuing row, she threw her supply of bananas, tomatoes, cucumbers and such around the customs hall. The airline later provided her with a basket of U.S.-grown food for the balance of the trip.

"I threw things, all right, but not at the customs men," said Dr. Moore.

"I threw the fruit and vegetables over the counter. I did not know I was supposed to declare things like that."

Dr. Moore, who recently completed a hike across the United States, said her trip from Australia was a series of minor disasters.

"Another passenger on the airliner dropped a suitcase on my head and I nearly fainted," she said. "Soon afterward a steward accidentally banged a door against my face."

"In Sydney I lost two of my suitcases containing money, important papers and 12 combs of honey."

"I tell you, I have really been in the wars."

She also has been in the newspapers. She arrived in London Airport with a big bundle of American papers displaying her picture and name on the front pages.

Fusselman Wants Hospital In Budget

County Supervisor William D. Fusselman said yesterday he would like to see the county hospital and farm project placed in the 1960-61 budget under capital improvements because "I have information the bond issue will not pass."

The $2,250,000 bond issue failed to pass on June 7, and the supervisors have indicated they will re-submit it to the voters in November. Some $1,865,100 of that amount is for the building alone.

Chairman Walter R. Castro told Fusselman: "That may be your opinion. It's not mine."

Supervisor William Gnos said he didn't think it was right to tax the voters after they said "no" to a bond issue. "I think the bond issue (in November) will carry," he said.

Mrs. Vera Schultz pointed out that voters were told that if they rejected the bond proposal the project will have to be financed in an expensive way.

County Administrator D. A. Jensen said that to finance the project through taxation for a two-year period would add about 40 cents to the tax rate.

Castro said he would be willing to donate a month's salary to help put the election over, and observed that it would be nice if the rest of the board would, too. No one volunteered, however.

In another matter, the supervisors heard attorney A. L. Bjorklund Jr. ask for a reopening of the assessor's budget which the board had earlier approved. Bjorklund said he represented a taxpayer who questions the legality of the reappraisal program.

The assessor's reappraisal program is to be considered by the board next Monday. Bjorklund said he didn't want the board in any manner to prejudge the matter to be heard Monday. "If the assessor's budget is approved, aren't you indirectly giving approval to his program?" he asked.

Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the validity of the cycle reappraisal program ultimately would be determined in a court of law, and by next Monday it would not be known whether it was valid.

Bjorklund said he was questioning the legality of delaying in 1960-61 the placing of San Rafael appraisal figures on the tax rolls until 1962-63.

Assessor Bert W. Broemmel said that in 1960-61 he is getting a head start on cost estimating for San Rafael, but these figures could not be relied on for a final opinion of value.

Observed Supervisor Fusselman: "To discuss the thing (the appraisal program) with any degree of comprehension is almost an impossible problem at the present."

The board approved the following final budget expenditures for 1960-61 (noted is whether the figure is a decrease, increase or the same as in the preliminary budget):

Garbage disposal, $14,350 (same); engineering and administration (roads), $122,800.27 (same); maintenance of yards, $9,948 (same); superintendent of schools, $91,459 (decrease); miscellaneous education, $30,611 (decrease); orthopedically handicapped school building $54,155 (not decided in preliminary budget).

Also, parks and recreation commission, $25,825 (decrease); approved by 4 to 1 vote. Mrs. Schultz voting no; acquisitions, $67,750 (same); general overhead, $133,146 (decrease); work done for government agencies, $1,500 (same); work done for others, $5,000 (same); reserve roads, $25,000 no change.

The board recessed its budget hearings until 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Kidnapers Bind Beat Man, Toss Him Off Cliff

PASADENA (UP) — A well-to-do Pasadena man was bound, beaten and tossed over a 75-foot cliff yesterday when he tried to escape from two kidnapers.

Richard D. Johnson, 47, recovering from shock today in Glendale Sanitarium, told police his abductors demanded $10,000 ransom.

The riding club owner said two men forced his car to the curb late yesterday afternoon. One of them climbed into his car and ordered him to drive up Angeles Crest highway.

Three miles north of Foothill boulevard he was ordered to stop. The gunmen took all he had with him, $10, and demanded he write a note to his wife telling her to give the bearer $10,000.

Johnson protested that his wife couldn't get that much money together so late in the day.

At that point Johnson jumped the man holding the gun. The two beat him, bound him and threw him over the cliff.

Johnson was rescued four hours later by a passing motorist, Peter Boyer of Pasadena, who noticed Johnson's car parked on the highway with the door open.

Meeting Postponed

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night failed to muster a quorum, so its meeting was postponed to Aug. 22 at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall.

NEW REQUESTS

Board Delays Action On Fund For Road

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday delayed action on a $896,051 road construction and maintenance budget until more information is obtained from the Strawberry Recreation District on a request for improvements along Belvedere Drive.

The district wants a ditch along the drive covered so it can develop a recreation area there.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham was asked to determine the extent to which the district will cooperate in the $14,000 project.

Brigham, outlined to the board a number of other items in the budget which have come up since the figures were prepared in March.

These include:

A request from Mill Valley to fence or cover a drainage ditch in Sutton Manor. Mill Valley is agreeable to fence and annex it if the county pays the cost of fencing (about $1,000), Brigham said.

Improvement work to be done at Dillon's Beach on a bank that has been sliding, cost about $3,000.

A request to widen Sea View Avenue in east San Rafael. Rights of ways would have to be acquired. The board said this project should be omitted.

Drainage pipe on Goodhill Road in Kent Woodlands, cost about $3,000.

Rebuilding of the bridge at Valley Ford between Sonoma and Marin, one-half participation in cost with Sonoma, about $61,000.

Brigham said he would recommend all the projects, but he thought the Strawberry one was not so justified as the others, since it was purely of a local nature.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said the projects mentioned were covered by taxes for such purposes, and there was a $2,000 surplus to be applied to the $14,000 Strawberry project. The additional $12,000 would be added to the general property tax.

Fred Dutton, Aide To Brown, Quitting

SACRAMENTO (UP) — Edmund G. Brown confirmed today that Fred Dutton, his executive secretary since he took office, is resigning.

There have been numerous reports that Dutton, a key figure in Brown's administration, was leaving to go to work for Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Brown would not say what Dutton's new job would be.

Hub Library Workers To Get 5% Raise

The San Anselmo Library Board last night approved a 5 per cent salary increase for the library staff, Miss Valerie M. Ansel, board chairman, reported.

The increase is the same as that granted other city employees. The library has six employees.

Four Arrested; Tried To Crash Radiation Lab

LIVERMORE (UP)—Four demonstrators against nuclear weapons tried to enter the gates of the University of California Radiation Laboratory here today and were arrested on charges of trespassing on federal government property.

The four men — two of whom earlier had said they were going to talk to laboratory officials — detached themselves from a group of 16 pickets parading outside the main gate handing out anti-nuclear war literature.

Security guards stopped them at the west gate and asked for their credentials. They said they had none but wanted to talk to Dr. Harold Brown, laboratory director. When they refused to stop, the guards arrested them.

The four were identified by security officers as Roy Kepler, Palo Alto; Jerry Wheeler, Berkeley; Hal Stallings, Altadena, and Samuel Tyson of Waterford, Stanislaus County.

They were taken to Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center to await arraignment.

Rod Southwick, assistant to the manager of the San Francisco office of the Atomic Energy Commission, said there had been no request that soldiers be moved in to keep the peace at the Livermore laboratory.

Fairfax Asks End Of Bridge District

The Fairfax City Council last night threw a hard, quick, left jab at the Golden Gate Bridge District.

Through a motion by Councilman Lawrence F. Walsh, the council unanimously decided to go on record as "favoring the dissolution of the Golden Gate Bridge District, and the establishment of a Golden Gate Authority."

Councilman Waldemar E. Radtke, who seconded the motion, said "The council should take a stand on such a highly important matter as the tremendously complex problem of transportation in our state and cities."

(Several city councilmen and Fairfax city officials including Clerk Alice Leonese, recently attended a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors held in Fairfax. Guest speaker at the meeting was Golden Gate Authority Commissioner Leo H. Strauss who expressed opinions similar to those in the city council's motion last night.)

Little discussion was involved before the motion was passed.

COULD CHP HELP?

Fairfax Police Lashed As Lax On Speeders

The Fairfax City Council last night was told that perhaps the city needed California Highway Patrol help in enforcement of speed laws.

Six Fairfax residents signed a petition requesting that the 25 mile-per-hour speed limit along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard be more strictly enforced between Archangel Court and the entrance to Oak Manor. Two of them told the council that "perhaps the city should ask the assistance of the California Highway Patrol" to solve the problem.

The two residents, John Jansoone of 2 San Miguel Court and Dino A. Braccesi of 2232 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, said many cars go in excess of 50 miles per hour along the stretch of boulevard. Jansoone said he felt the police department was lax in enforcing the speed limit.

Councilman Rolfe M. Ockenden, who heads the city police commission, suggested that sidewalks be installed, to protect pedestrians. He said that a policeman had already been assigned to protect school children walking to and from school beginning next month.

Court Delays Travel Plea From Hayden

Actor Sterling Hayden's plea to travel outside California with his children was delayed until 2 p.m. Aug. 15 by Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin County Superior Court yesterday.

The Belvedere actor wants to take his new wife and five children to Yugoslavia so he can fill a motion picture engagement.

Hayden was represented in court yesterday by attorney Richard Gladstein.

According to the terms of his 1956 divorce from his former wife, Betty Ann De Noon, "neither party shall remove the children from the State of California without the consent of the other party or an order of this court."

The actor-adventurer took the children to Tahiti last year aboard the schooner Wanderer in defiance of the court order.

There are about 7,000 miles of navigable canals and rivers in France.

Funds For Promotion, Development Approved

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a final $27,596 promotion and development budget after hearing some protests against allocation of the funds.

The board included in the budget for the first time a $500 appropriation for the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, with the condition that the money be used for specific projects.

The preliminary budget had carried $25,846 for "promotion and development."

The budget provides for co-operative agreements with various organizations whose operations are directed toward inducing immigration into the county and increasing its commerce.

Granville Beedle, secretary-manager of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, presented the chamber's request for a $2,500 allocation, chiefly for the production of brochures.

D. A. Jensen pointed out that the board's practice to date has been to contribute to chambers of commerce for special events, such as the Novato Western Weekend and the Sausalito regatta. The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce receives a $3,500 appropriation on the basis that it operates a county-wide visitors' bureau.

Mrs. Evelyn McDougall of Mill Valley commented that it was too bad to tax people for things they cannot afford to go to in order to subsidize them for people who can afford it. She cited the Symphony Guild and Marin Music Chest programs as examples.

The board heard a letter from the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs declaring the only legal excuse for donating to private organizations was that they attract more people to Marin.

The federation declared it was "opposed to the use of public funds for any private organizations which seek to influence legislation of a controversial nature or which practice discrimination in their membership. To use public funds for such groups would be to compel taxpayers to contribute to organizations to which they are opposed."

The letter cited the Marin Rod and Gun Club, which has received funds from the county, and "avowedly practices racial discrimination in its membership."

Supervisor Vera Schultz said she favored elimination of funds to all chambers of commerce. They are organizations of businessmen for benefit of specific communities, she said.

Mrs. Schultz said the Marin Industrial Development Foundation has demonstrated it can induce industries here, and it would be "folly" to take it off the list.

After the discussion, the promotion budget was approved unanimously.

The scarlet tanager, with black wings and tail, is also known as the fire bird.

Wife Signs Complaint In Belvedere Fracas

A complaint charging Indio rancher Mattias Kornell, 44, with assault with a deadly weapon in a Belvedere home was signed yesterday by his wife, Joelle.

Kornell was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital, under treatment for assorted cuts and bruises and a welt on the head. He is also being treated by a San Rafael psychiatrist.

The rancher was kayoed Sunday by 17-year-old Joel Kaufmann, who whacked him on the head with a baseball bat.

Kornell allegedly terrorized his estranged wife and five other persons in the home of her brother, William J. Kaufmann, San Francisco furniture wholesaler, at 6 Pelican Point.

A request by the district attorney's office to raise Kornell's bail from $1,050 to $3,500 was denied by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin County Municipal Court yesterday.

Kornell is scheduled to be arraigned when he is released from the hospital.

Trial Date Set In Assault Case

Vertis D. Spigner, co-owner of the Pig Haven restaurant near the Richardson Bay Bridge, pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in Marin County Superior Court yesterday.

Trial by jury was set for Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

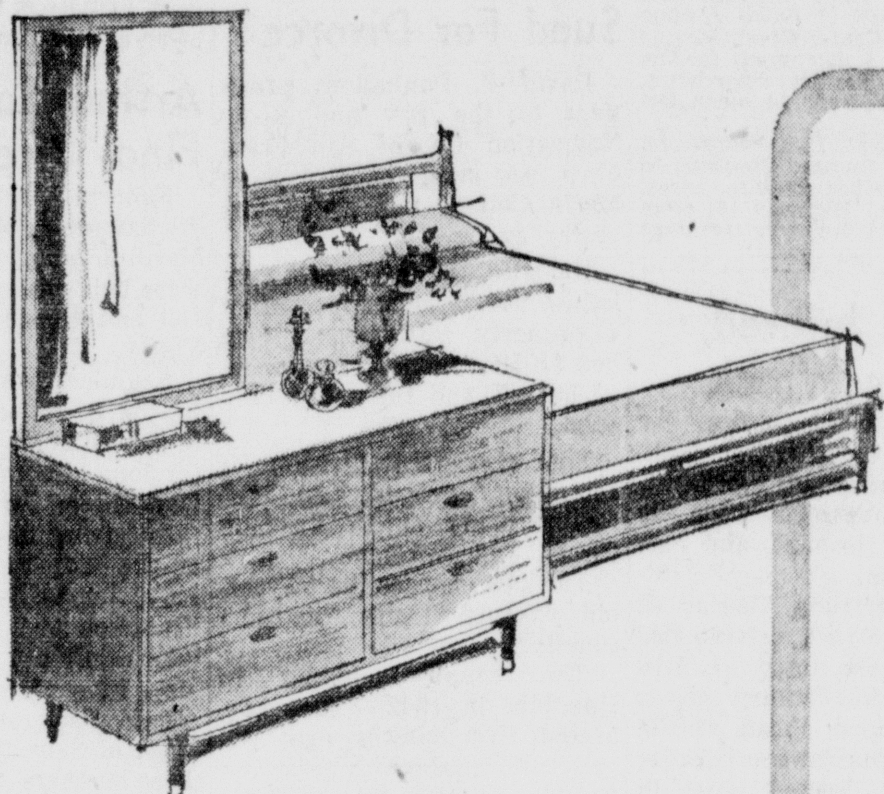

Spigner, 36, of Marin City, was arrested July 14 after a row with his partner, Adam Jackson of San Francisco. Spigner allegedly pulled a .22-caliber Derringer. During the struggle for the weapon, the gun went off, according to Jackson's account. Neither man was hit by the bullet.

Drug Suspect Released Here Caught In S.F.

State narcotic agents nabbed the Swede in San Francisco yesterday, but Little Egypt is still at large.

"The Swede" is Mrs. Elsie Larsen Gallo, 41-year-old cocktail waitress. "Little Egypt" is Mrs. Terrell Lynn Wells, 25, an interpretative dancer.

Both, according to Matthew O'Connor, area chief of the state narcotics bureau, are members of a gang which has worked a narcotics prescription racket at dozens of drug stores from the Oregon border to San Diego.

Both, along with Mrs. Diane Arms, 16, were arrested June 12 at a Mill Valley motel by Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo police and Mill Valley officers.

Mrs. Arms was turned over to juvenile authorities. Mrs. Gallo and Mrs. Wells were charged with getting narcotics from doctors by fraud.

But both were released when the charges were dismissed by visiting Judge Wallace W. Cox of Solano County in Marin Superior Court on motion of then-Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich.

Weissich claimed County Medical Director Rafael G. Duffy had interfered with his prosecution of the case by refusing to allow the women to be given narcotics at San Rafael General Hospital. Dr. Duffy claimed the district attorney had endangered the prisoners' lives by furnishing them with narcotics without his knowledge or consent.

Arrested with "the Swede" in San Francisco was Charles Ward, 47, called by O'Connor the second member of a six-member ring. Both were held in $5,000 bail.

Others in the ring, besides "Little Egypt," are Theron G. Wells, the dancer's husband; Gerald S. Galler, 24, and Ellis O. Gee, 47, said O'Connor.

He described a method of operation identical to that used in Marin County as disclosed in the investigation by Serio and Sgt. James Orr of San Anselmo police.

One of the women would go to a physician, complain of severe pains, and say she had received a certain narcotic prescription from her hometown physician but had lost it. She would ask the doctor to issue such a prescription. If he did so, she would have the prescription filled at a local drug store—and often would "case" the drug store for future theft of narcotics from it.

O'Connor said the six are associated with a 28-member Tacoma, Wash., gang that specializes in narcotics and dabbles in robbery, extortion and confidence games.

San Leandro Cuts Tax Rate For 13th Time

SAN LEANDRO (UPI) — The San Leandro City Council last night voted a cut in the tax rate for the 13th consecutive year.

Mayor Jack D. Maltester said the reduction, amounting to 2 cents per $100 valuation, was made possible by the city's industrial growth.

Trustees Pass School Budget For Sausalito

Sausalito School District trustees re-adopted the district's 1960-61 budget of $654,750 last night after it had been published in Saturday's issue of the Marin News in Sausalito.

The budget was first adopted Aug. 1 without a check having been made to see if it had been published as required by law. It was subsequently found that it had not been.

The board also discussed with developers of the Buena Vista Heights subdivision improvements to a road adjacent to Bayside School. It agreed tentatively with the road improvements and will discuss final approval at its next meeting. George R. Kowski, trustee, said.

The board also approved purchase of a 1951 Army surplus car for $90 to be used for transportation.

Saturday at 10 a.m., Kowski said, board members are to meet to inspect all the district schools. At the same time trustees will review the school bus routes.

Arsenal Found In Teen's Car

A small arsenal was found in a San Francisco teen-ager's car following a 90-mile-per-hour pursuit down Highway near Mill Valley last night.

The driver, Stanley S. Morris III, 18, was booked at the Marin County Jail on charges of carrying concealed weapons and speeding.

Sgt. Walter Pudinski of the California Highway Patrol said Morris' car zipped by him going north on 101 across the Richardson Bay Bridge. He pulled the car over by the Greenbrae Bridge.

Inside were a large billy club, baseball bat, taped steel bar and a five-inch hunting knife.

Office Building Zone Approved By Planners

The Novato Planning Commission last night approved a zoning change which would allow construction of a two-story office building estimated to cost $130,000.

The commission approved rezoning of the 50,000 square feet of land from residential to professional-administrative status at the request of land owner George Schilling of Novato. The parcel is located at Diablo Avenue and Court Road.

The building would house approximately 30 offices, with parking space for more than 60 cars in front. It would be mainly of wood construction. Plans have not yet come before the planning commission.

The commission denied a request for rezoning of two blocks of first street from one-family residential to commercial. The area is on the west side of first, between Olive and Grant streets.

The vote was 3-2 against the move, with commission chairman Harley McAskill, Don R. Hoffman and Robert Johnson voting against. Planners Henry J. Kaehler and Mrs. Lucile Cannon voted in favor.

The change had been requested by Jack Nelson so that property he owns at 1045 First Street could be used for small business operation.

In other business, the commission:

1. Denied, 3-1, a petition to reclassify two lots in the duplex subdivision on the north side of Olive Avenue from residential to multiple housing. Mrs. Cannon was in favor and Kaehler, the petitioner, abstained.
2. Approved a tentative map of St. Francis Heights subdivision unit one, an eight and one-half acre parcel east of Suto Avenue and south of Center Road.
3. Approved a use permit for the Loma Verde Baptist Church on Calle Arboleda near Alameda Del Prado.
4. Set for Sept. 12 a hearing on a petition by Richard Stockton to change a shallow 11-acre parcel of land east of Highway 101 from agricultural to highway frontage designation.

His wife, Helen Patricia Penhallow, 46, asked approval of a property settlement giving her $1050 a month for support of herself and their five children.

She also asks division of community property and the family home at 15 Luzanne Circle, San Anselmo.

The suit charges the 55-year-old executive with "extreme cruelty."

The couple married in Honolulu in 1942. They separated five months ago.

Vandals Try To Open Coin Box At School

Vandals entered the Pacheco School in Raphael Village, tried to smash open a coin box and poured ink over several desks, Lee J. Avilla, maintenance superintendent, reported to the sheriff today.

They apparently got in through an unlocked door and then worked on the soft drink machine coin box with a hammer, he said.

8-FOOT SHARK CAPTURED IN OYSTER BED

Oyster farmer Henry Jensen of Tomales Bay found an eight-foot long, seven gill shark trapped in his oyster beds in the north end of the bay yesterday.

The 300-pound, giant shark is believed to be the man-eater type, Jensen said. It's the first one that ever got into the beds, he added. The shark was dragged onto shore and will be used for crab bait.

No other location around Marin reported any sharks yesterday.

Dispute Halts Philippine Jet Flights

MANILA (AP)—Pan American Airways halted its jet operations in the Philippines today—four days after getting started—in a dispute with Philippine officials.

The Philippine Civil Aeronautics Board said it will take up the Pan American schedule tomorrow. A government spokesman said approval should be a mere formality.

The airline announced that a jet flight due here tomorrow from Los Angeles and Honolulu will bypass Manila and land at Saigon.

Shipping Figure Sued For Divorce

David P. Penhallow, president of the Bay and River Navigation Co. of San Francisco, was sued for divorce in Marin County Superior Court yesterday.

His wife, Helen Patricia Penhallow, 46, asked approval of a property settlement giving her $1050 a month for support of herself and their five children.

She also asks division of community property and the family home at 15 Luzanne Circle, San Anselmo.

William Manning Rites Tomorrow

The Independent-Journal yesterday inadvertently gave the initial of the late William P. Manning as "A." in a story announcing his funeral services to be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Redwood Chapel in Novato.

In the same story, his surviving brothers name was given as John M. Manning. It should have read James H. Manning.

Manning, who resided at 226 Merrydale Road in San Rafael, died Friday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Arthur Saunders Final Rites Held

Funeral services for Arthur W. Saunders, 66, a resident of Marin County for 35 years, were held yesterday at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley.

Saunders, who was employed by the H. C. Little Burner Co. in San Rafael, died Friday after long illness. He resided at 25 Millwood Street, Mill Valley.

Surviving are his wife, Ora, at the Mill Valley home; two sons, James Saunders of San Francisco and Raymond Saunders of Cotati; two daughters, Mrs. Florence Sewell of Yosemite Park and Mrs. Cheryl Funk of Sausalito; a sister and three brothers, Mrs. Ceries Donaldson of Mill Valley, Aldice, James and Orville Saunders of Santa Rosa, and five grandchildren.

School Budget Of $893,000 Gets Approval

San Jose School District trustees last night gave final approval to a $893,279 budget for 1960-61.

The tax rate was estimated at $2.97 per $100 assessed valuation. This will include the maximum $2.25 operating rate approved by voters in June. Last year's total rate was $2.11.

The budget rise, from $869,238 of the previous fiscal year, is primarily because of the 400 additional pupils expected to enter district schools in the fall.

Double sessions may be necessary in some classes, depending on how rapidly Air Force Capehart Housing fills up. An addition to Lynwood school will be completed some time in the fall.

Where a family finds every comforting assurance

Here at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery there is every assurance a family needs in choosing a final resting place.

First, there is the knowledge that this beautiful Marin site will be properly cared for — even increase in loveliness — as the years progress. For future maintenance of Mount Tamalpais is provided for by a generous and growing endowment fund, over twice the legal requirement.

Here, too, is the assurance that families of all faiths will find facilities which match their means and personal preferences. Mount Tamalpais offers interment, above-ground burial in the beautiful garden setting of the Angeles Chapel or the indoor Memory Chapel. Here, too, is Marin's first crematorium, and a peaceful columbarium — the Chapel of Light.

Today, there is a modern, thoughtful trend to spare others difficult decisions in time of sorrow. Consider the wisdom of this thoughtfulness — then come and visit this beautiful Marin setting. We welcome your questions, or invite you to call or write for our brochure

Boat Accident Statistics Will Bring New Regulations

Statistics are a powerful weapon in the fight to reduce our tragic highway accident tolls.

Keeping track of the number of accidents, the number of serious injuries and the number of deaths gives us totals that dramatically remind each and every driver of the hazards he must guard against while traveling down the road.

More complex statistical data enable highway engineers to design safer roads and enable police to promulgate improved regulations and enforcement.

This has all been going on for several decades and collectively has acted as a brake on our highway accident tolls.

Until recently, there hasn't been anything like this in the field of small boat accident prevention. There was no central agency to collect statistics on a state-wide basis. The growing number of small boaters included many unaware of the hazards involved. Even such organizations as the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the U. S. Power Squadrons had scant statistical information on which to base their safety campaigns.

Now that is going to be changed. The State Division of Small Craft Harbors is beginning to collect boat accident information, now required by state law to be reported.

In a preliminary release of figures for the first four months since accident reports have been required, the small craft division listed 28 deaths and 75 injuries in small boat mishaps. A total of 180 accidents were reported.

As the flow of reports catches up with the higher summer use of boats, we expect the death and injury toll will rise much, much higher.

So the first big step has been taken toward use of statistics as a weapon in the fight to reduce boat accidents.

We rather imagine that the statistical data will be the basis for proposing new regulatory legislation covering boat operation, when our state legislature convenes next year.

The Well Bred Petunia

There are few examples of evolution and successful plant breeding more striking than that provided by the petunia. This delicate flower in its various shapes and sizes is one of Marin's most popular summer blossoms.

The fancy fluffy ruffled petunias with their four inch blooms were developed from a simple lavender flower less than half its size. A variety of colors have been selected and bred until they now range from purest white to a deep violet red, with a number of mixed patterns in between.

Whether we look at them from the standpoint of their being a scientific curiosity or just enjoy them for their fluffy ruffled beauty, petunias are interesting flowers.

DUTCH BOY SAVES CITY

A little Dutch boy became a national hero when he discovered a leak in a dike in time to have the city of Zaandam, Holland, from possible disaster.

One night, when the 8-year-old youngster couldn't sleep, he told his mother: "I hear a lot of water running."

Going outside to investigate, he discovered water pouring through a growing gap in the dike, only a few feet from his house.

The boy quickly sounded an alarm. An emergency squad soon appeared and repaired the breach.

Children are blessed with a sense of alertness and curiosity that can benefit them and everyone else if properly developed and channelled.

By impressing on young people that they have a bit of God-given greatness hidden within them, you would do much to stimulate them to find constructive outlets for their natural spirit of wonder and adventure.

"The child grew, and became strong. He was full of wisdom and the grace of God was upon him." (Luke 2:40)

Thanks, O Lord, for blessing every child with a sense of wonder and curiosity.

You Don't Know What Trouble Is Unless You've Got Size 7½ Head

NEW YORK (P)—You think you've got troubles?

Well, you don't even know what troubles are—unless you have got a size 7½ head.

"Whatever you do in life, don't get a big head."

This advice is given to millions of youngsters every year by everyone from maiden aunts to camp counselors. The same advice is given to film stars, salesmen, Army sergeants or flagpole sitters—to anyone growing up or going up in the world.

This advice is sound, sane and sensible. But what if you can't avoid it? What if your head becomes enlarged, not by prideful self-nurture, but by nature?

What if you were born with a big head and, no matter what you did, it kept growing bigger and bigger and still bigger?

If you are one whose head stands out in a crowd, your problems begin in your youth.

Guess which one the algebra teacher calls on to explain the theory of quadratic equations. Naturally, the kid with the big head. His noggin catches the teacher's eye because it stands out in the class, like a toadstool in a cluster of daisies.

There isn't a thing you can do about it either. As a lad I remember tying a rope around my head above the ears hoping it would squeeze smaller while I slept. All it gave me was a headache—a big headache.

When I reached maturity, my head finally stopped growing—I hope. On cold, clear, crisp days I have a size 7½ head, but on warm, muggy days in summer it swells to size 7¾.

REALLY, A SIZE 7½ head is only about a half-size larger than an ordinary head, but what a whale of a difference this half size seems to make.

Some people half-believe that because you have a big head you must have a big brain and therefore should be smarter than they find you really are. Actually, of course, the size of the brain is no real index to mental ability.

SOME YEARS ago scientists found the second largest brain on record belonged to a Russian novelist—but the largest belonged to an idiot.

So, friends one and all, do not laugh at a man with an oversized noggin. He would gladly trade places with you pinheads any day in the week.

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County was warned that if it failed to acquire Angel Island, the National Park Service planned to seek legislation to keep the island "under public control," presumably as part of the national park system.

Public hearings were promised in Richmond soon on the proposed San Rafael-Richmond Bridge, a procedure routine with the Army Corps of Engineers after application for a permit to build any bridge.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

County Should Review Salaries

EDITOR,

Independent-Journal:

The county administrator has recommended a 5 per cent increase in salaries for all county employees to cover alleged 3.8 per cent increase in the cost of living.

This increase will cost the taxpayers $175,000.

The employees earning from $8,000 to $15,000 will receive the greatest benefit. Those in the lower salary brackets who have difficulty meeting their monthly bills should be given more consideration.

The supervisors should be requested to review the county salary situation making reasonable salary increases where urgently needed that would be fair and just to the county employees and the taxpayers.

Son's Friends Aid Grieving Parents

EDITOR,

Independent-Journal:

Our hearts are so full of gratitude and appreciation to the boys associated with the car clubs of the community that we want all of our readers to know the wonderful things that they are doing.

On July 2, we lost our son Bill in an automobile accident in Placerville. He was a member of the Road Runners of Marin.

We had immediate assistance from the boys. They made special trips to Placerville to try to take care of matters there. Last Thursday, July 28, they held a benefit dance at Bermuda Palms. The hall was donated by Whitey Litchfield for whom Bill had worked. The music was donated by John Allair, Pete Lind and Doug Cox; also the Custom Keys and Starlighters. The dance was sponsored by the following car clubs:

Road Runners of Marin, Sleepers of Marin, Eliminators, and all other clubs associated with the Marin County Timing Association.

Also, our son had a 1953 Ford with a super-built up motor—just completed, which we would need to dispose of. Since it is difficult to sell quickly and for cash, these boys took over for us and had tickets printed asking $1 donations for each chance on the car.

We can't begin to praise these young men enough, and especially Jim Murphy of 849 Belle Ave., past president of the Road Runners. He has been in constant touch with us and it has eased the pain in our hearts knowing Bill had such wonderful friends.

Kennedy Advisor Recommends Sales Taxes To Pay U.S. Bills

WASHINGTON—John Kenneth Galbraith is a tall, sardonic, witty Harvard professor of economics who alarms almost everybody.

He alarms other economics professors because he obstinately writes the English language, which is held to be grossly immoral in every proper economics department. He alarms liberals because he is not mushily humanitarian, in the fashionable left-wing way. But above all, he alarms conservatives.

Galbraith is becoming the new ogre of American businessmen, because he is thought to be a dangerous left-winger, and because he is well known to be one of Sen. John F. Kennedy's chief economic advisers. America sternly Galbraith-ized by a Kennedy victory, with not a single yacht, or quail shoot, or dividend left in the land—that is the grim vision which now haunts great numbers of prosperous persons.

IF READING BOOKS were not becoming such an out-of-date pastime, the simplest remedies for these nightmares would be to read what Galbraith has written. Just for the jokes, it is well worth doing, as the following passage on the nature of vested interest may perhaps suggest:

"The nature of a vested interest has an engaging flexibility . . . in ordinary intercourse it is an improper advantage enjoyed by a political minority to which the speaker does not himself belong. When the speaker enjoys it, it ceases to be a vested interest and becomes a hard-won reward. When a vested interest is enjoyed not by a minority but by a majority, it is a human right."

Maybe the jokes are the real source of conservative alarm about Galbraith. In modern America, we do not suffer with gladly. At any rate, if you take a careful look at his "Affluent Society" and his more recent "Liberal Hour," you will find a system of ideas that logically ought to enrage the left far more than it disturbs the right.

TO BE SURE, the basic proposition of the "Affluent Society" is unsettling. America, says Galbraith, is now too rich and comfortable to regard constantly increasing production of increasingly superfluous consumer goods as our main end and purpose. The time has come, Galbraith suggests, to think about buying more schoolrooms instead of more tailfins. And this of course requires much heavier investments in what he calls the "public sector."

This central idea, that it is useful to increase investment in the public sector, is the source of the conservative outcry against Galbraith. But if conservative persons will only read on, to discover how Galbraith proposes to increase public investment, they are likely to have more mixed reactions.

He is, to begin with, just about as anti-inflationary as George M. Humphrey. His reasoning is somewhat different. He says, for instance, that inflation corrupts good government, because government salaries never keep pace with an inflating currency.

But Galbraith and Humphrey stand four square together, nonetheless, on the subject of inflation. He also stands four square with Richard M. Nixon on the matter of the budget. Like Nixon in the 1958 recession, he accepts the need for an unbalanced budget in bad times. But he also insists on a strict balance in good times.

Again, Galbraith stands four square with Humphrey and Nixon—or perhaps one should say, very nearly four square—on the problem of the income tax. Some of his sharpest jokes are directed at the liberal delusion that all bills can be paid by raising the taxes of the rich. It just will not work, he warns.

IF GALBRAITH had his way, the vast existing loopholes would certainly be closed. Personal and corporate tax rates might perhaps be raised toward the pre-Eisenhower levels. But there would still be yachts and quail shoots in plenty.

Meanwhile, Galbraith coolly proposes to pay the main part of the bill for new public investment with the tax which has been the cherished darling, the favorite lost cause of the National Association of Manufacturers since time immemorial. Extended sales taxes, in fact, are the expedient he proposes. And if this expedient bears hardly on the small remaining minority of the truly poor, he says that investment in the public sector must dry up these sad remaining areas untouched by American affluence.

There are other Galbraith ideas that the N.A.M. and big labor too, will like less well. Instead of the exhortation

Reporters Have Good Excuse To Be At Fires; They're Working

IF I EVER turn to a life of crime, I'll be a fire bug.

With the rest of the juvenile delinquents, I run to fires, chase the engines, watch the flames and bother the firemen. Reporters have a wonderful excuse: they can say they're working.

There is nothing like a big, red destructive blaze to bring out the most bothersome and best in everybody.

If it's a real corker, like the one at Marinship in Sausalito a few months back, the lineup of cars will clog the roads, barely stop at going over fire lines, and bring crowds of gawkers.

Self appointed policemen will turn out to direct traffic, helpful but blown up with their importance. Youngsters drool over the shiny equipment which firemen keep polished to a high luster which reflects the flames.

THE SALUBRIOUS climate of California sometimes makes fire fighting a little easier. At least around here you don't have to fight flames in below zero temperatures. When the thermometer hits 10 below zero, everyone turns up the heat. Then the fires start.

Firemen grow huge bushy eyebrows of frozen spray. Burned buildings sprout five-foot icicles. Water freezes where it lands, anchoring furniture, ashes and feet to floors. Hands grabbing at metal (those nozzles and reporters' cameras) leave skin attached to the equipment.

On the other hand, in Marin the grass crackles with its dry brownness in the summer. Day after day firemen dash out to stop a backyard grass fire, an incinerator gone wild.

Kids, matches, a dull day and dry grass are a frightening combination. Just one little wrong move, or right from their point of view, and the shiny fire trucks will wait into sight.

And if the grass happens to be near something more solid, such as a fence, a house or just brush, it's away.

Novato firemen got a call last week reporting a grass fire. Flames could be seen from highway 101, more than a mile away, as they made a red gash on the hillside.

The grass was near jack-straw piles of grey, dry logs and heavy branches which soon boomed into flame. Firemen had to roll hose more than 2,000 feet from the hydrant, then clamber over shifting branches which gave way under them.

Hoses focused on one point of the block square log jam had to be moved as a steady wind pushed the flames into the face of firemen.

FIREMEN WHO had to move against the downwind side had another hose played on them to cool skins so they could face the flames. Youngsters skittered at the outskirts with cans of water they had grabbed to carry on their backs, but kept a wary eye on the flames which kept moving toward them, toward the dry trees behind them. Tree leaves turned color under the blasts of hot air.

Firemen stood in front of the blaze and stopped it. Then they switched their hoses back as it threatened to gain on another side.

Hot and sweaty, they kept knocking down the red flames which popped up. The fire had started just after noon. The last hoses were drying; equipment cleaned and engines shiny again at midnight.

DISPERSAL UNDERWAY

Military Bombers Showing Up At Airline Terminals

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (P)—If you notice a sleek military bomber parked at a commercial airline terminal, it's a token of the times—part of a sweeping program to disperse the weapons with which to strike back in the event of a sudden attack.

A few days ago the Strategic Air Command started sending individual bombers to commercial airports, deploying them temporarily from their regular airdromes to train the crews in this new procedures. This is an extension of SAC's program of building more military airfields to scatter its bombers and reduce concentrated targets for enemy missiles and planes.

THE DISPERSAL program is not confined to the Air Force. The Navy (which learned a hard lesson at Pearl Harbor) now keeps a large segment of its fleet either at sea or in widely separated ports.

The Army's strategic dispersal problem is more difficult. But it has revamped completely its battlefield plans to avoid concentrated targets for atomic fire against troops in action.

While airplanes can be distributed easily to scattered points, land-based missiles present dispersal difficulties. The fixed launching bases for transoceanic rockets, of course, can't be moved about. And their present and planned locations are known at home and abroad.

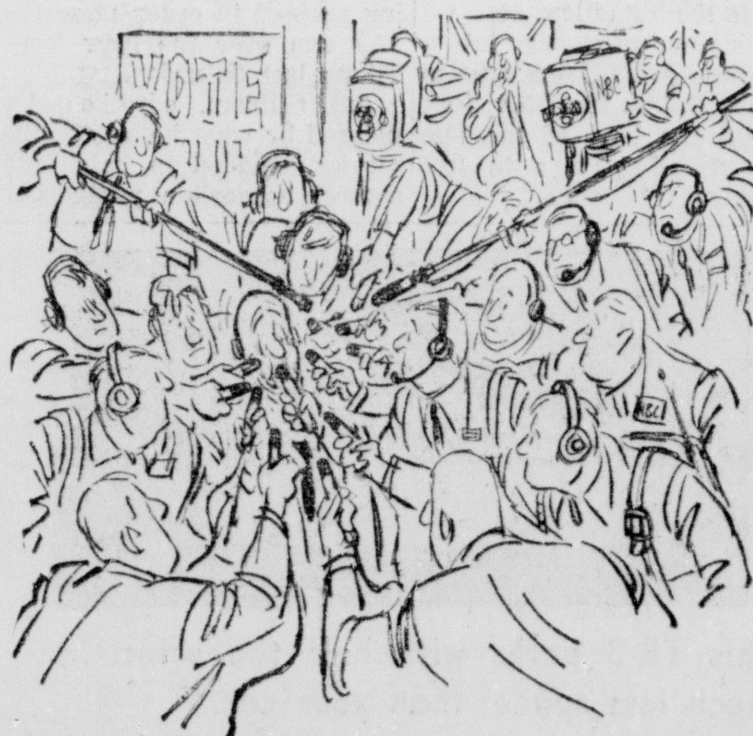

One solution is to "harden" the launchers, put them in holes reinforced to withstand anything short of a direct hit by an enemy nuclear missile or bomb.

A second solution is coming along. When the Air Force's Minuteman ICBM missile is ready, two launching techniques will be used. The solid-fuel rocket can be fired from a hardened site or from rail, road cars which will move from spot to spot, constantly shifting launching positions.

THE NAVY CLAIMS it has the best of all solutions in its Polaris submarine system. The sea service's argument is that not only does the system of launching ballistic missiles from submarines confound enemy defenses and vastly reduce the danger of destruction of the launching base, but it provides this added feature:

If missiles bases aren't located in the United States, the reason for all-out nuclear attack on the United States is reduced.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, says the Navy's strategy will be to move the missile-firing subs about under the escort of nuclear powered antisubmarine submarines.

Pelicans Notch 1st Marin Win

By KARL BARRON

The Tiburon Pelicans last night became the first Marin club to win a ball game on the playing field in the California Semi-Pro Tournament at Albert Field, as they overcame the stubborn resistance of the Travis Air Force Base Hawks 4-3.

The Tiburonites did it with their bats, lacing Reese (Tricky) Dick for 10 hits. And they did it behind a five hit pitching effort from Fred Thurman, with a last minute save by Tom King.

In the second game last night, Ben's Tavern of Alameda rolled over the Franciscans of San Francisco 10-0 in a game called after five innings on the nine run deficit rule.

Last night's play eliminated Travis and the Franciscans from the tourney. Tiburon and Ben's go on with two wins and one loss each.

Pelican shortstop Ed Vigno brought a crowd of 150 Marin fans to its feet as he led off the bottom of the first with a single through first base.

After Steve Jones grounded out, first sacker Ron Stuart smacked a single to bring Vigno in. Jim Barbeau, third base, hit into a double play, and Tiburon held a one run lead.

In the third, with two out, Chuck Kelberlau of the Hawks got life on an error, and Bill Hills smashed one to right center field, scoring a run. Only a tremendous burst of speed by centerfielder Jones and a quick relay prevented the Travis catcher from scoring. He pulled up at third, and Thurman got Ed Lastra on strikes.

Tiburon broke the one-one tie in the bottom of the third. Rich Curry, filling in at second for vacationing Hal Schutzman, hit one off shortstop Turner's glove, then stole second.

Thurman, who went two for three, singled sharply to score Curry, and the Pelicans took the lead, which they held until the sixth. In that frame the airmen's Jim Turner crashed a round-tripper over Jones' head to high center and the game was all tied up again.

The Hawks went into the lead in the seventh when Kelberlau hit to center field, Hills grounded to first, advancing the runner and Newman singled to give Travis the 3-2 margin.

Pelican catcher Gene Choan led off in the bottom of the

RE-MATCH SET FOR TONIGHT IN BALLFEST

Moving well into the third round of play, tonight's schedule in the California Semi-Pro Tournament re-matches the Santa Rosa Elks and San Mateo Blues, at 6 p.m.

The Elks upset San Mateo, last year's runner-up team, in their first meeting, 4-3. Both teams stand at one win and one loss.

A 8:45 the Richmond Elks and Ongaro Plumbers of San Anselmo tangle, the loser to be eliminated.

Semi-pro commissioner S. L. (Brick) Swegle announced there will be only one game tomorrow night, the Burlington Red Sox going against the Pontiac Braves at 8:15 p.m.

The first game, scheduled between the Manteca Merchants and Riverside Dons, has been moved to 11 a.m. Saturday to allow the Dons travel time.

seventh with a drive that was sailing five feet over the center field fence when Newman leaped high, smashed against the fence and came up holding the ball. It was the center fielder's second spectacular catch in the tournament.

Dave Broome grounded out, and with two away, left fielder Mike Curry hit a blooper into center. Newman, playing deep, had to race in for the ball, and it bounced off his glove. Rich Curry followed his brother with a hit to right.

Fred Thurman hit one down the third base line which gave

BOWLING

Jim Dehl, Dave Bryden and Van Eaton each bowled a 547 series last week to share scoring honors in the Guys and Dolls League at Greenbrae Lanes. Patty Campbell hit a nifty 222 line and 528 total to lead the Dolls.

High scorers in other Greenbrae leagues: Commercial League—Jerry Pearce, 513; Lynden Smith, 510; Dick Miller, 506.

Merchants League, Rolando Galli, 200-153-225—578; Mike LaTorre, 514; Bob Hawk, 506.

Lou Booker trouble, and an overthrow at first gave Thurman credit for a double and scored Mike Curry.

Dick was lifted for Stan Caldwell, who walked Vigno. Then Steve Jones singled, scoring Rich Curry for the run which held up to win.

Thurman walked Turner to lead off the eighth, then pitched three straight balls to Booker, and manager Ed Vigno sent in Tiburon's ace right hander, Tom King. King pitched a strike to Booker, then got him to hit into a double play. The relief hurler scooped a weak dribbler down the first base line from the bat of Ed Young, and tossed it to first for the third out.

King finished Travis in the ninth with four straight pitches, three of them retiring batters on infield outs.

Tiburon had two double plays and the Hawks also completed two, both Booker to Kelberlau to Ed Young.

In the second game, the Ben's Tavern powerhouse shut out the Franciscans with Willie Calvin giving up only two hits in five innings.

Jim Bird homered with none on in the fourth, and Dave Blasquez also put one out of the park with Dutch Dowler and Bill Silva ahead of him.

A big six run fourth and four more in the fifth put the Franciscans away on the nine run deficit rule after five full innings.

HOME RUN HAPPY DODGER KILLERS

Wes Covington, left, and Eddie Mathews were a happy pair in the dressing room last night at Milwaukee after their homers helped to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-6. Mathews had a two-run four-master and Covington blasted a three-run homer in the eighth that put the Braves ahead to stay. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Netmen Squeeze Past Mexico Team

MEXICO CITY (UP)—United States Davis Cup captain David Freed breathed a sigh of relief today and looked ahead to the American zone final against Venezuela in Cleveland Sept. 16-17-18.

Freed's charges whipped Mexico, 3-2, in the semifinals which finished up on a discordant note yesterday. After Barry McKay clinched the decision with a 6-2, 6-4, 2-6, 12-10 victory over Mario Llamas, Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, and Esteban Reyes, Jr., took the court for the final—though meaningless—singles.

With McKinley ahead, 2-1, in the first set after breaking Reyes service in the third game, rain began to fall. Mexican officials called the match and announced it would be continued today.

But Freed demurred. He said the team members had plane reservations home and that it would be impossible to play today. He ordered McKinley to default.

So it wound up a hair-thin margin for the U.S. team, the closest, in fact, ever against Mexico.

"We were lucky to squeeze through," commented Freed.

Floyd Leaves For Europe Exhibitions

NEW YORK (P)—World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson left by air early Tuesday for Copenhagen on his way to Sweden for a series of exhibition bouts.

Patterson, who regained the world title from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson last June, said he was ready to defend the crown "any time between now and the early part of next year."

The champion told reporters he had been told Johansson wanted to wait until next year but that he preferred an early date so he could schedule a second bout later in the year.

Football Slates Award For Its Grand Old Man

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg will receive the National Football Foundation's gold medal award on his 98th birthday next Tuesday for his contributions to American intercollegiate football.

Stagg, known as "the grand old man of football," will be honored at a luncheon in his home town of Stockton. The award will be presented by Chester J. Laroche, president of the National Football Foundation.

Collegians Pin Hopes On Arms Of Passers

CHICAGO (P)—Don Meredith, George Izo or Pete Hall. Take your pick.

On the arms of these three passers rest the College All-Stars' hopes of upsetting the Baltimore Colts Friday night in the midsummer football classic in Soldier Field.

Meredith, Izo and Hall were three of the finest collegiate passers in the nation last fall. Whether they can connect against the Colts remains to be seen.

Meredith did his pitching for Southern Methodist and in some quarters is considered the finest passer to emerge from the collegiate ranks in years.

Don got his initial experience of playing professional ball last week in a scrimmage against the Chicago Bears. The All-Stars lost 30-14 but Meredith accounted for the losers' two scores with touchdown passes.

Izo is a native of Barberton, Ohio. He did his passing at Notre Dame and has the professional touch. Izo can throw long, short, hard or soft—depending on the situation.

Hall, from Wheatland, Pa., is one of the finest passers to come out of Marquette. At 21 he is one year younger than Izo and Meredith and will play his professional football with the New York Giants.

Coach Otto Graham has not as yet committed himself on which of these three quarterbacks will start against the Colts.

Four 49er Rookies Cut From Squad By Hickey

MORAGA (P)—Three linemen and a defensive back, all rookies, were dropped from the San Francisco 49ers after coach Red Hickey examined films of Saturday's exhibition victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

Guard Billy Borders, Montana State; tackle Carl Robinson, South Carolina State, linebacker Bob Wassen, Auburn and back Hillard Hill of Southern California were released.

Fifteen more cuts will be required to trim the squad to the 36 players allowed during the season.

Rams Shift Pair

REDLANDS (P)—The Los Angeles Rams have shifted two defensive linemen to fill a gap at offensive tackle.

Coach Bob Waterfield said Lou Michaels, two-year veteran from Kentucky who has been a regular defensive end, and rookie John Kennerson, also from Kentucky, have been moved to the offensive unit. Kennerson has been looking good as a defensive tackle.

The Rams' attack bogged often in the disappointing 1959 season, a 2-10 affair.

The Ram pass defense, also vulnerable all last year, doesn't seem to have improved much in the training camp here. Quarterback Bill Wade riddled the defenders with three touchdown passes in a scrimmage Saturday night and Frank Ryan completed a 55-yarder to Leon Clarke.

Bad News For Eddie

SANTA CRUZ (P)—Oakland Raider coach Eddie Erdelatz—hoping to bolster his team with rejected San Francisco 49er and Washington Redskins rookies—learned yesterday he will not have free pickings.

American Football League contracts provide other teams with pre-established rights to some of the cut players. The "small print" states that where another AFL team drafted a player who went into the National Football League, the drafting club would have first crack when the individual cuts his National League ties.

"It is one of the biggest blows we've had and means that we'll have to go along pretty much with what we have," Erdelatz said when the contract conditions were pointed out to him yesterday.

Giants Ask Jones To Put Brakes To Downhill Skid

CINCINNATI (UP)—The San Francisco Giants planned to send Sad Sam Jones to the mound against the Cincinnati Redlegs tonight to see if he can apply the brakes on their runaway downhill chariot.

Jones (13-11) will oppose Bob Purkey (11-7), the Giants attempt to end a five-game losing streak and a road trip slump during which they have lost eight of nine games.

The Reds edged San Francisco, 4-3, in the opening game of the three-game series last night. Catcher Ed Bailey did the damage with a ninth inning homer off Lefty Mike McCormick.

Cincinnati scored one run in the third inning, but the Giants evened it up in the fourth on consecutive singles by Joe Amalfitano, Jim Marshall and Orlando Cepeda.

Cepeda singled and was doubled home by Felipe Alou in the sixth inning to put San Francisco ahead, only to have the Reds tie it up in the bottom of the same frame.

Willie Kirkland smashed his 12th homer of the year in the top of the seventh, but again the Reds equalized the blow on two pinch hits and a wild pitch. Bailey's homer ended the contest.

Giant manager Clancy Sheehan shifted his lineup a bit—and still ended up in the losing column. Willie Mays was benched to nurse a slight cold, and Jimmy Davenport played at shortstop in place of the injured Eddie Bressoud.

San Francisco had plenty of hits, but couldn't get the runners home. Cepeda, Amalfitano, Marshall and Kirkland each had two hits in four trips to the plate.

The defeat dropped the fifth-place Giants 11½ games behind league-leading Pittsburgh. They remained 4½ behind the fourth-place Los Angeles Dodgers, who were defeated by Milwaukee.

Cincinnati is in sixth place—but the Giants don't have to worry about Reds for a while. They trail San Francisco by 7½ games.

Sheehan scheduled a special batting practice this afternoon for some of his slump-ridden hitters.

Dad In A Dither; Wants To Be In 2 Places At Once

C. H. "Charley" Wilson of Larkspur would like to be in two places at one time Thursday, but, of course, that's impossible.

Wilson has two sons who play baseball and it just so happens each boy's team will be playing in championship competition at the same time only in different places.

Doug Wilson, 17-year-old outfielder for a Berkeley team, will be playing in the Connie Mack League state championships at Sacramento's Pacific Coast League stadium starting Thursday.

At the same time, 12-year-old Kevin Wilson will be playing for Twin Cities All-Stars in the California Little League playoffs at Roseville.

The senior Wilson is hoping the schedule makers will permit him to watch one son play, then allow him time to hustle off to the other community to watch the other son. One thing in his favor—Roseville and Sacramento are not far apart.

Marin Pirates Lose Meet To San Ramon Swim Squad

Still suffering from illness and vacation shortages, a "skeleton" Marin Pirates swim team turned in outstanding performances but went down to defeat, 249 to 282, at the hands of the San Ramon Swim Club in Danville Saturday.

With only 21 athletes, about half the normal compliment, the exhausted Pirates doubled up work loads on most individuals and dominated the first place department in the meet, but lacked the depth to score the most points.

The Pirates captured 36 firsts in the 49 events they were able to enter, but had to let 15 races go by default. The 21 Marinites were up against a squad of 43 from San Ramon.

High point honors for Marin went to 13-year-old Lynne Keeler, who piled up 26 1/2 counters on five firsts in individual events and a winning relay. Her day's work was overshadowed, however, by Alison Pringle, 12, who competed in nine events, including four relays, but to-

Drop In Number Of Wild Ducks Seen By Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Fish and Wildlife Service today predicted a pronounced decrease in the numbers of wild ducks in the Pacific flyway this fall and little change from last year in the other three flyways.

Service experts outlined the situation to the Water Fowl Advisory Committee as a preliminary to consideration of 1960-61 hunting regulations to be recommended to the secretary of the interior.

The hunting regulations were tightened last year because of poor production as a result of drought in major duck breeding areas.

LAD, 4, SHOWS DAD HOW TO GET STRIPER

Vernon Nelson, age 4 1/2, went fishing over the weekend with his father, Charles Nelson of Creamery Road, San Geronimo and showed dad how. And how!

While his father, who works for the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael, fished with shrimp, Vernon used sardines. Suddenly Vernon told his father, "Daddy, I got a bite." He pulled on his bass rod and the pole pulled back, but he couldn't handle it by himself and his father helped him reel it in.

Vernon had caught a 20 1/4-pound striped bass, 38 inches long—just 3 1/2 inches shorter than himself. The exciting catch took place off a shore near Fort Cronkhite.

Candlestick Builder Demands More Money

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The contractor who built Candlestick Park says San Francisco owes him $2,734,490 for incidentals. The Giants' new stadium has cost more than 15 million dollars already.

A Grand Time Was Had By All As Sportsmen Burned The Mortgage

The mortgage consuming conflagration at the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club grounds is ably described by the club's chairman of publicity, Walter Hodges. So ably that we print his letter almost verbatim, to wit:

"Saturday night, July 30, the clubhouse was filled with members and friends who had gathered to celebrate the burning of the mortgage on the Car Port.

"The club's president, former Marin County assessor George Hall Sr., appointed 'Grandpappy' Hodges, one of the oldest members, to perform the honors.

"Hodges spoke of the phenomenal growth of the club since its inception, March 11, 1926. Its members numbered only 75 at that time and meetings were held in the various homes of the members.

"The first president was William Benn, Vice President Frank Benjamin, Secretary Dave Campbell, Treasurer Jack Ferrier, Trustees Joe Melhope, Joe Brown, Howard McLaughlin and Leslie Crump. Dues were $2 per month, half of which went to the Associated Sportsmen of California.

"By 1937, membership had grown to such an extent that a committee was appointed to find ways and means to build a clubhouse. After overcoming all obstacles, financial and others, the building was finally completed May 24, 1940. The first meeting was held by candlelight and one old single mantle Coleman lantern. The balance in the treasury was the magnificent sum of $3.09.

"From this humble beginning the club has grown to its present stature with its large membership, sizeable amount in the treasury, a beautiful clubhouse and annex, as well as two large parking lots and an all metal carport.

"The present officers of the club are George Hall Sr., president; Fred Kuhlken, vice president; Ralph Wildt, secretary; Purl Miller, treasurer; Edmund Greenwood, sergeant-at-arms; trustees Jack Urbani, Fred Beck, Frank Morgan, Howard McLaughlin, Pete Martin, Harry Simpson and George Bendon.

"PRESIDENT HALL thanked members and friends for making the occasion a grand success. He also thanked Ray Miller and co-chairman Leslie Burd and committee for the delicious turkey dinner; the Tamalpais Sportsman's Club for the music, and also the many vocal quartets for rendering, in various parts of the house and all at the same time, Sweet Adeline, Home on the Range, That Old Gang of Mine, and finally, Good Night Ladies."

We thank Hodges for his report and envy the lucky members of the Greenbrae Rod and Gun Club.

Senator Says Missing Pair Could Aid Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell said yesterday that two missing National Security Agency mathematicians could be useful to the Communists even if they did not carry any U.S. secrets behind the Iron Curtain.

The Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, implied the Communists could use the men's talents either to help break U.S. codes or to aid the Russians in developing their own.

The men are Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, of Eureka, once a resident of San Rafael, and William H. Martin, 29, of Ellensburg, Wash. They are life-long friends, bachelors and ex-Navy employees.

The Defense Department announced Friday that they had been traced to Mexico and then Cuba and that it was likely they had "gone behind the Iron Curtain." They dropped from sight June 24 after announcing they planned to visit their parents.

Although the National Security Agency is one of the nation's best guarded intelligence groups, it is known that it deals among other things with codes and cryptography. Mitchell and Martin were employed in "limited areas of communications statistical work," according to the Defense Department.

Russell said their disappearance is under "most intensive" investigation.

He made the statement after meeting for more than two hours with Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas and officials of the Air Force operated intelligence agency.

Russell said the disappearance also is under investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Central Intelligence Agency and military intelligence agencies.

Herter Warns U.S. Foreign Policy Strong

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Russia today to "take warning" that U.S. foreign policy will continue to be forceful and effective during the coming political campaigns.

"Our opponents," Herter told his press conference, "should take warning that the American government and people can move with speed, force and unity just as at any other time."

NO PARALYSIS

Herter said in a statement he wanted to disabuse the Russians of any idea that U.S. foreign policy becomes "paralyzed" during election periods lest the Kremlin miscalculate U.S. intentions and cause World War III.

"Let no one mistake for a sign of weakness, and seek to profit therefrom, what is instead a sign of strength that we Americans as citizens of a free country can unhesitatingly and openly debate our policies so as to arrive at the best political decisions for our nation," Herter said.

OTHER POINTS

On other major points of Herter's news conference:

He blasted as "completely arbitrary" Cuba's seizure this week of virtually all remaining American-owned property. He said the seizures left out the two essentials of international law — adequate and prompt compensation.

He said the U.S. would continue to file diplomatic protests against such Cuban actions to put this country's legal position on record in case some day there is a change in the Cuban government.

U.S. Reaffirms Polaris For NATO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States told Russia today it would not be "deflected by Soviet threats" from giving Polaris missiles to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In a note delivered to the Kremlin and made public today, this government accused Moscow of pursuing a "policy of threats" to stir up world tensions.

The United States has been negotiating to arm NATO with land-based Polaris missiles since April when Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. offered the missiles at a NATO meeting.

The land-based Polaris, a relative of the Polaris missiles now being tested in nuclear submarines, is not expected to be ready until 1963.

Russia complained in a July 19 note that the NATO Polaris negotiations threatened peace and constituted rearming of West Germany.

Today's note replied that Russia is equipping its armies with modern weapons.

"The Soviet government appears to contend," it said, "that it can pursue this course of action, and moreover do so in an atmosphere of strictest secrecy, while denying the NATO member countries the right to provide for their common defense."

"The United States and its allies," the note said, "will not be deflected from taking jointly measures they deem necessary for their defense."

It is Russia, the note said, which is stirring world tensions by "repeated threats" to take "unilateral action."

The note referred to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent threat to shoot rockets at the United States if it intervenes in Cuba.

It said the United States "regrets" that Russia "has chosen to pursue a policy of threats, of unilateral action and deliberate distortion of truth which is not conducive to an improvement in the international atmosphere."

GOP Civil Rights Plan Due Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) announced today that he would introduce a bill this afternoon to carry out President Eisenhower's civil rights proposals in the pre-election session of Congress.

He announced his plan after attending a breakfast strategy conference with the President, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, and other Senate Republican leaders.

Dirksen hinted that he might offer his civil-rights bill and other legislation recommended by Eisenhower in the form of "rider" amendments to measures sponsored by the Democratic leadership.

In his special message yesterday, the President urged action on two civil rights proposals omitted from the civil-rights bill enacted earlier this year.

These would provide federal financial and technical aid to communities to help achieve racial desegregation in schools and would give permanent status to the committee on federal contracts, which seeks to end racial discrimination by employers holding government contracts.

But Dirksen avoided giving newsmen the idea that he expects the Senate to pass another civil-rights bill this year.

He omitted this issue in listing the measures he thought the Democratic majority would press in the summer session before adjourning for the political campaign.

He reported that he had told the President he believed the Democratic program would include appropriations for foreign aid and public works, a minimum wage bill, legislation to provide medical care for the aged, amendments to the social security law, and a measure to relax restrictions on picketing. Dirksen pointed out that Democratic-backed bills dealing with housing and federal aid for education are stalled in the House.

Dirksen said Nixon and the GOP leaders at the breakfast had discussed all phases of the Eisenhower message, which included more than a score of legislative recommendations. He said that Eisenhower had not narrowed the field to a "must" list.

Dirksen scoffed at yesterday's statement by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) that the President's program was borrowed from the recently adopted Democratic platform.

Dirksen said the Eisenhower recommendations were set forth in messages to Congress in January and May, long before the Democratic National Convention last month at Los Angeles. If any "borrowing" was done, it consisted of the Democrats borrowing from the President's program.

FOUR-DAY CAMPAIGN

Kennedy Plans Labor Day Swing To Hawaii, Six Other States

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic Presidential nominee John F. Kennedy is planning a Labor Day weekend campaign swing that will take him to Hawaii and six other states in four days, it was announced today.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger said the tentative itinerary for the Massachusetts senator calls for appearances in California, Hawaii, Washington state, Alaska, Michigan, Montana and Oregon.

Salinger said Kennedy and his vice presidential running mate, senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, will appear together in California and Hawaii.

Salinger said the stops in Montana and Oregon may have to be canceled if Kennedy is required to return to Washington for sessions of Congress.

He announced this travel schedule:

On Sept. 3 Kennedy and Johnson will fly to San Francisco and then to Honolulu. Together, they will dedicate the new East-West Cultural Center in Hawaii.

Kennedy then will travel alone to Seattle, Wash., for "some campaign activity" and then fly to Anchorage, Alaska.

From Alaska, he will fly to Detroit, where he is scheduled to talk on the morning of Labor Day, Sept. 5.

Kennedy also will stump through Pontiac, Flint and Michigan, Mich.

If Kennedy does not have to return to Washington, he will leave his Michigan campaigning on the evening of Sept. 5 and go to Billings, Mont., then Portland, Ore., and end up at Sacramento, Calif., on the evening of Sept. 6.

This Sunday, as previously announced, Kennedy plans to visit Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at her Hyde Park home.

Kennedy also will attend a meeting of farm belt leaders from 12 states at Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 21. Johnson is expected to be there also.

Earlier in the day, Kennedy and Johnson sat in with top Democrats to plan for what was termed the "hard, tough job" of raising money to finance their campaign to win the White House.

They conferred with Sen.

Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), the new Democratic national chairman; Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and party national treasurer, and Clarence M. Martin, Jr., of Los Angeles, an aide of Jackson's.

McCloskey told reporters afterward that the Democrats were starting "almost from scratch" in financing their 1960 election campaign. He said they had some debts but there was enough in the bank to pay them off.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Passing Checks

Sandra Sue Griffith, 21, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to three counts of passing bad checks but innocent to two counts of conspiracy.

A motion by the public defender to dismiss the conspiracy charges was taken under advisement by Judge Jordan L. Martinelli, who continued the case until Aug. 29 for probation report and sentencing.

Red-Dominated Conference Asks Complete Disarmament

TOKYO (UPI)—The Communist-dominated sixth world conference against atomic and hydrogen bombs ended today with a demand for "sincere and successful negotiations" in the next United Nations General Assembly session for "total and complete disarmament."

The demand was contained in a 21-point resolution that bitterly attacked the United States and its Western Allies as "forces of war and aggression."

The conference, which began here last week, adopted the resolution without opposition.

The resolution demanded a ban on all types of nuclear explosions and strongly protested against "the U.S. government's intention to resume tests."

"We demand that an agreement for a permanent ban on nuclear tests be reached on the basis on terms already agreed upon at the conference in Geneva," the resolution stated.

The delegates from some 28 countries unanimously adopted the resolution, which called for "the governments of all the world (to) create a favorable situation for the resumption of the summit conference by abandoning all evil intentions such as spy flights, and stopping every action which will lead to more tension."

The resolution also denounced the American military alliances and called upon "all peoples of the world to realize and resist the provocative role of Seato, Cento and other military alliances operating in Asia and organized by imperialist powers."

Authority Slates Gate Span Hearing

The Golden Gate Authority Commission will hold a second major hearing tomorrow on the key question of what role the Golden Gate Bridge should play if the Bay Area's toll bridges and other publicly owned transportation facilities are merged under a central regional management.

The hearing will open at 9:30 a.m. in Room 985 of the Flood Building, 870 Market Street, San Francisco.

Commission Chairman Thomas M. Carlson of Richmond said the Commission expects to receive statements from representatives of government, business and civic interests in San Francisco.

The Wisest Choice...at The Wisest Time!

Is there a "right" time to move up to Cadillac?

Ordinarily, our advice would be to put considerations of year and season aside when you think of the "car of cars". For Cadillac always stands alone in what it is and does and represents—and the pleasures of owning this fine motor car are as timeless as they are tempting.

Yet, today there are very special benefits awaiting the man who purchases a new Cadillac.

Consider the merits of the car itself.

Cadillac styling and engineering have produced for 1960 at their bountiful best. There is a look of beauty and a sense of fitness in every line. Its performance is truly classic—and its luxury is a constant inspiration.

VISIT YOUR LOCAL AUTHORIZED CADILLAC DEALER

And then, of course, there are these important factors of practicality. The car's current delivered cost promises a most pleasant surprise—its careful craftsmanship pledges an economical future—and its great reputation means a resale value that is predictably satisfying.

Moreover, your dealer is currently in a position to extend a generous allowance on your present car.

So if you feel the time has come for your new Cadillac, you can count yourself doubly fortunate. For you will be making the wisest choice in motordom at the wisest possible moment.

See your nearest Cadillac dealer soon—and see if we aren't right about this splendid opportunity!

Mrs. Bostwick To Mark Years As Director Of Humane Society

By MABELLE SPECKMANN

Some people have babies left on their doorstep, but with Mrs. Stewart A. Bostwick of Mill Valley it's dogs and cats.

"I must have placed hundreds of them in Mill Valley homes, she said.

A born organizer, Mrs. Bostwick finds her Humane Society work one of her most worthwhile activities, and this month will celebrate her 25th year as a director of the Marin County Humane Society and founder of its Mill Valley Auxiliary.

The rummage sale scheduled by the Auxiliary for Aug. 22 through 24 at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse will be the latest of many she has organized as a benefit for the work of the society.

"We used to give card parties, fashion shows and many other kinds of affairs, but we found that we made more money in three days with less work on a rummage sale than in any other way, and we have stayed with them," Mrs. Bostwick explained.

"I've always loved animals," she went on, "particularly horses, which I had as pets and for riding, and I was forever rescuing dogs and cats.

"I first started work on an organized basis when I became a director of the Marin County Humane Society, and I have been with it ever since."

But this is only one of its remarkable woman's interests.

TENNIS PLAYER
In 1929, when she was a champion tennis player, she founded the Mill Valley Tennis Club, and it was on a tennis court that she met her husband, son of the Frank Fish Bostwicks, who were among the first settlers in Mill Valley.

As a longtime member of the Outdoor Art Club, Helen Bostwick is known as chairman of the dramatics section of its annual "Jinx" for most of the time since she joined, and as the reorganizer of the garden section in 1950 after it had been inactive for some years.

She was one of the early members of the Rector's Guild of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour.

Always interested in the plight of the less fortunate, she organized during World War II a group of people who went regularly to visit the Lucas Valley home, for she felt the old folks were the really forgotten ones at that time.

She also is noted for flower arranging and cooking and bakes a famous lemon meringue pie. Since she plays the piano by ear, she can be the life of the party when she sits down to rattle off jazz tunes.

Despite all of these interests and hobbies she found time to serve on the grand jury for one year and covered Mill Valley society for Florence Donnelly when Mike Fessier, now a noted Hollywood writer, was editor of the Independent-Journal.

Biographically these are the highlights of her story.

Born in Benicia, Calif., Helen McCarthy lived in San Francisco principally until her marriage to Stewart A. Bostwick, who was in the import and export business with his father in San Francisco.

They settled in the old family summer home in Mill Valley known as "Blink Bonnie" on Lovell and Cornelia Avenues. After a year they went to the Orient and spent three years there.

DEEP IMPRESSION

"I saw so much cruelty to animals then" she recalled, that it made a deep impression on me, but, of course, the people themselves weren't much better off."

Returning to Mill Valley the Bostwicks resided at the old family home again. For many years they put on theatricals, with Mrs. Bostwick both acting and directing, and it was this experience that formed the basis for her work with the Outdoor Art Club's dramatics.

The Bostwicks had three children, Mrs. Frank Lohman of Saratoga, Calif., Mrs. Stanley Brooks of Mill Valley, and John Stewart, a captain in the U.S. Marine Corps, who was killed in Korea in 1952.

Her husband died in 1953, and for the last two and a half years she has lived at 120 Walnut Avenue in Mill Valley, the place where the dogs and cats are left on her doorstep.

Among the things she is interested in for the future are educational work in the schools to prevent cruelty to animals, and perhaps writing some stories for children.

"You get as much out of life as you put into it," is her philosophy.

MRS. STEWART BOSTWICK of Mill Valley will celebrate her 25th year this month as a director of the Marin County Humane Society and founder of its Mill Valley auxiliary. She was photographed with a Korean chest that is a family heirloom. The bowl is filled with white roses from her garden. Gardening was among her many hobbies. (Independent-Journal photo)

Yank Helps Spain To Gain Toehold In Shoe Market

MADRID (UPI)—An American expert on footwear is perking up the Spanish shoe trade.

Dr. Louis G. Feman, of Jamaica, N.Y., is helping Spain's shoemakers modernize their craft in order to sell more shoes in the United States.

Feman has been here for a year working for the International Cooperation Administration, analyzing the nation's shoe industry, and suggesting changes to makers who want to sell in America.

In November, 1959, Feman sent an exhibit of Spanish-made shoes to a national shoe fair in Chicago.

The display of shoes made by the 350 shoemakers from the town of Elda was the outstanding exhibit of the fair, Feman said in an interview.

Dr. MacGregor Visits Her Mother

To visit Mrs. Charles F. Cooke of San Anselmo her daughter, Dr. Frances Cooke MacGregor, flew out from New York. Dr. MacGregor is associate professor of social science at Cornell Medical Center in New York.

Mrs. Cooke was in the East from October to May. She visited with her daughter and in Cleveland and in Kentucky where she was born.

Spain is a land of small shoe factories. There are nearly 1,500 shoe plants, but only seven of them make more than 500 to 1,000 pairs of shoes a day. The next 120 plants make from 100 to 500 pairs a day, while the remainder make less than 100 pairs a day.

Spain's shoe factories produced nearly 600 million pairs of shoes in 1958, an average of 434,000 pairs a factory.

But, Feman said, there is more to shoemaking than mass production. His task, he said is not to concentrate on increasing the volume of shoes made.

"Spanish craftsmanship in shoemaking is the best in the world and that fine feeling for good handiwork should never be lost," he said. "But the shoe economy here does need a booster shot.

"My job is to modernize tradition Spanish craftsmanship so Americans can have shoes that fit, well, yet have the benefit of careful handiwork."

One of the biggest problems was the poor fit of Spanish shoes by American standards. They are made here in one width in whole sizes, and on lasts which don't allow narrower heel fittings.

Feman outlined this problem to the Spanish producers who are now making shoes for the U.S.

Housewives Warned: Beware 'Referral' Salesmen In Bay Area

Smooth-talking "referral" salesmen are still shanghaiing consumers into debt in Bay Area communities, State Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson announced today.

Capt. Charles E. Brown, Richmond Chief of Police, and Captain Kingsley Perkins of the Richmond Police Department promised a full investigation and immediate action on any complaints they receive from consumers who are approached or have been victimized by these living-room racketeers.

Mrs. Nelson said these latest instances of "suede-shoe" operations had not been reported to her when she said Monday that the practice of "shanghaiing" consumers in their living rooms is "about extinct" in California.

The very next day she was contacted by Marjorie Nowell, a Richmond attorney, who reported that several families have recently sought her help after being victimized by referral sales of vacuum cleaners.

Mrs. Nelson said she just today received complaints of similar living room racketeering in Oakland.

"This is how the referral plan works," Mrs. Nelson said. "The smooth-talking salesman makes an appointment to call at the house when both husband and wife will be home.

He uses the names of another couple, friends or relatives, as an introduction. These friends have 'referred' him. Sometimes the friends write or phone you ahead of his visit. The salesman may pay you to listen to him give a demonstration. He may tell you he is selling nothing, but is advertising in the home instead of on television or in magazines. He offers to pay you a certain sum for each new friend or relative you refer to him as a potential customer.

"By this means, he urges, you can make some money—maybe enough money—maybe more than enough money to completely pay for the item he has demonstrated—a vacuum cleaner, a water softener, a hi-fi tape recorder, whatever. Of course, you will have to sign some papers, he explains.

"Don't sign!" Mrs. Nelson warned. "If you do, you will sign yourself into a promise to pay several hundred dollars at high interest rates. The salesman's promise to pay for your friends' and relatives' names will be completely separate and much less binding than your promise to pay for the item being purchased."

Mrs. Nelson's office has campaigned against referral sales programs for several months, working closely with the Consumer Frauds Division of the Attorney General's Office, the Division of Corporations, and local law enforcement agencies.

The Richmond Police Department pledged its full cooperation in a special meeting yesterday with William I. Cole, Special Field Representative for the Office of Consumer Counsel.

Mrs. Nelson said she still wants to hear about any referral programs going on in California and asked anyone who knows of such a program in his area to write to her at the State Capitol, Sacramento.

Malcolm Green, Sheila Ryan Married In San Francisco

In an 11 o'clock nuptial mass at San Francisco's St. Vincent de Paul Church on Saturday, Sheila Marie Ryan of San Francisco became the bride of Malcolm Green III of Rancho Cordova.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Louis E. Bartolini of Mill Valley, was honor attendant for her sister. Jan Valtz of Berkeley was best man and ushers were the bride's brother, Thomas Michael Ryan of San Rafael and Louis Bartolini of Mill Valley.

The bride is the daughter of Thomas C. Ryan of San Francisco and the late Mrs. Ryan. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green Jr. of Rancho Cordova are the parents of the benedict.

For her wedding, the bride wore a dress of ivory peau de soie with scoop neckline and bell skirt. Her veil of illusion was held by a wreath of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Mrs. Bartolini wore a frock of coral silk taffeta with square neckline and short sleeves. She had a coral Dior bow with circular veil and carried coral gladioli blossoms.

The couple will make their home in New York where the benedict will study for a master's degree at Columbia University.

BRIDE-ELECT HONOR GUEST AT SHOWER

Mrs. William D. Fusselman gave a miscellaneous shower on Saturday honoring her great niece, Laureen Brear. Laureen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brear of Greenbrae, will be married on Sept. 3 to Donald White of Carmichael, Sacramento County, at Stewart Memorial Chapel at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. The reception will be held at Alexander Hall, also on the campus.

The shower was given at the San Anselmo home of Mrs. Warren P. Landon.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, attended Chico State College. Her fiancé is a graduate of Chico State and employed by Aerojet.

Laureen's brother, Richard Brear, is now traveling in Europe and will not be back in time for the wedding. He is going to Oberammergau for the Passion Play and will attend the international convention of the Young Men's Christian Association in Amsterdam.

Mrs. Duncan To Attend Baptism

From Belvedere comes the news that Mrs. Harry C. Duncan will fly to New York City tomorrow where she will attend the baptism of her new grandson, Christopher.

Christopher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Cady (Diane Duncan).

He will be baptized by Rev. E. J. Mohr of St. Stephen's Church which Diane attended while she lived in Belvedere.

Also to be in New York for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Harrison T. McClung formerly of Belvedere now of Dutch Flat, Calif. Mrs. McClung is Diane's godmother.

Shower Given Mrs. Periera

A stork shower was given recently for Mrs. John Periera (Audrey Zappella) of Petaluma by Mrs. Harold Genazzi of Pt. Reyes and Mrs. Mary Baptiste at the San Rafael home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Albert Pieller.

A stork centered the refreshment table and on a large cake was the welcoming inscription. Gifts were piled into a decorated baby buggy, also a present for the baby.

Guests were the guest-of-honor's mother-in-law, Mrs. John Periera, and Mesdames Pieller, Joseph Horick, Byron Cook, Richard Soldavini, Robert Soldavini, Mario Soldavini, John Sequeria, Marianna Sequeria, Phillip Soldavini, Ambrose Soldavini, Charlene Weiss, Rachel Dileana, Joseph Milani, Frank Milani, Louis Milani; Misses Barbara Horick, Betty Horick, Josie Russo, Donna Grimm, Bonnie Ronsheimer and Pat Genazzi.

Vivier Baby Baptized At St. John's Church

St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross was the setting for the recent baptism of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry A. Vivier. The baby was baptised Denise Lorraine by the Rev. Harold E. Hallett, rector. Sponsors were the baby's great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Eling of San Francisco.

A family gathering at the Viviers' home in San Anselmo followed the religious rites. Present with Mr. and Mrs. Vivier and their two and a half year old son, Larry A. Vivier Jr. and their baby were Mrs. P. C. Vivier of San Rafael, the paternal grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Eling of Kentfield, the maternal grandparents, Dwight Vivier of San Rafael, a great uncle, also Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Eling Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eling of San Anselmo and Miss Geraldine J. Eling of Kentfield and Jerry Vivier of San Rafael.

Monestiers Return From Honeymoon At Lake Tahoe

Back from a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe and residing in a duplex at 2058 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ronald Monestier. The young couple was married at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia with the Rev. Vincent Fleming officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theobald Baas of San Rafael, wore a gown of white peau de soie with panels of Alencon lace on the full skirt. Seed pearls and sequins were on the sweep train. The portrait neckline was edged with the lace ornamented with pearls and sequins. The fitted bodice had long sleeves. A coronet of pearls held the fingertip length veil and white orchids were in the bride's cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Richard Roach of Larkspur, matron of honor, and Linda Martinez of Modesto, and Sue Stevenson of San Rafael, bridesmaids, wore gowns of white silk orzanza over romance blue satin. The gowns were designed with fitted embroidered bodices, scoop necklines, short sleeves and full skirts. Their satin cummerbunds were blue. So were their satin hats with circular veils. All three girls carried baskets filled with pink roses, white snapdragons, and blue delphiniums.

Joseph Monestier Jr. of Larkspur was best man and guests were Ted Baas of San Rafael and Don Nielson of San Anselmo.

About 125 guests attended the reception at Rickey's Rancho Rafael. A miniature bridal couple topped the three tiered wedding cake. Georgia Smith was in charge of the guest book.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Monestier of Fairfax, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. The bride is a graduate of San Rafael High School.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baas wore a violet faille dress with a pink hat. The bridegroom's mother wore a gold silk with black accessories. Both mothers had white butterfly orchid corsages.

New Tires Aimed To Please Milady

DETROIT (UPI)—Motorists can thank the woman driver for the fact that the day of the roadside stop for a flat tire is retreating into history.

That's the word from the nation's biggest producer of tires (Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.).

The company says the fair sex can take most of the credit for new advancements in tires—such as double-chamber safety tires—simply because they demanded it.

The company made market studies and found that the lady of the house is handling more and more of the family errands requiring a car. Her trips are usually short but she often puts more mileage on the family buggy than hubby does.

Fifty years ago about the only control a woman touched on a car was the door handle. So, at that time there wasn't so much concern about the reliability of car parts, like tires.

Most of the male drivers were mechanically adept and it wasn't such a great problem—although it was an annoyance even to the males—to change a tire.

In 1905, the life of a tire was about 2,000 miles and the cautious motorist carried three spares. By 1912, tires were lasting 3,500 miles and the number of spares was cut to two. By 1935, most tires were good for 25,000 miles and one spare was considered enough.

But even that improvement was nothing like those in recent years.

And Walter Lee—director of tire research and development for Goodyear—says women drivers are one of two factors involved in the recent spurt in tire development.

The growth of turnpikes and freeways since the second World War, with speeds and the length of trips increasing, would have surely resulted in elimination of the flat tire, regardless of the influence of women.

But—as Lee put it—"I'm the first to admit, that women have speeded up the process."

Speeds would have brought the same results eventually, he said.

With all of the dangers in-involved, motorists can be extremely grateful that the tire companies decided the woman was so frail they couldn't let her drive a car that was apt to have a flat.

Bathrooms

Appear To Be Status Symbol

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bathrooms—2.5 of them to a home—appear to be a status symbol in the suburbs these days.

A Chicago real estate company queried 1,000 homeowners in 10 suburbs, found almost half of them wanted this many bathrooms.

Most homeowners who wanted more bathrooms also wanted bigger ones, replete with colored fixtures, vanities, recessed radiation, glass stall showers, sunlamps, decorative tile and all the other trappings of luxury.

Other status symbols in the suburbs, judging from the importance homeowners attached to them, included street and area names, postlights, ceramic coach boys and double garages.

Asked about the bigger things they wanted in their next home, 64 per cent of those queried wanted more space, frequently in the guise of a family room generally regarded as the most popular area in the house.

The survey showed surprisingly few takers for the highly publicized split-level home, at least in this area of the country.

Thirty-eight per cent of those queried preferred ranch homes, but almost as many voted for colonial and other two-story homes.

Those who already owned ranch homes often complained that one-floor plans did not adequately cut off children's rooms from adult parties.

Other facts brought out by the survey: dining rooms are coming back into their own, primarily as entertaining areas; smart kitchens are expected today; outdoor living areas are virtually a must.

Urban Wife Finds It's Easy To Locate A Suitable Job

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI)—Working wives are on the increase in small cities and towns.

That's the observation of one of the country's biggest suppliers of temporary office help.

Tom Graham, vice president of the nationwide firm, said suburban living in large metropolitan areas can make it impractical for wives to work.

"It often takes too long for the suburban wife to get down to the job in cities like New York, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles," he said.

"But in small cities and towns, where it takes just 15 or 20 minutes to get to a job, it's easy to get married women back to work at almost any age."

The average woman placed in temporary jobs by Graham's firm is 37, married, has two children and may work at ten different assignments in a year.

This corresponds with a recent report from the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, which shows that the typical woman part-time worker is married and between 35 and 44 years of age.

But many of the regulars placed by Graham's firm are considerably older. "We have our share of grandmothers," he said.

He said temporary jobs were particularly inviting to older women because they often had trouble getting regular jobs on a full-time basis. "But when employers need summer replacements or extra help during peak periods, they'll take a woman any age," he said. "We got a 72-year-old woman a summer job as an airline reservationist."

An 85-year-old woman who applied to Graham's firm was placed in a temporary job with a firm which previously turned her down for a regular job because of her age. "They wound up liking her so much they asked her to come back the next summer," Graham said.

Graham even succeeded in placing an elderly woman with a heavy Polish accent in the British Travel office in New York one summer when they were desperately understaffed.

"Everyone got such a kick out of her un-British accent over the phone and her work was so good that she was called back several times," he said.

Graham said that older women prefer temporary jobs after not working for years. "They like the idea of only working when it's convenient or they're up to it," he said.

He admitted that women of any age frequently hesitated to take the strain of constantly starting temporary jobs because they fear new jobs. But he finds most of their fears dispelled by their first temporary job.

"Most employers go out of their way to make it pleasant for temporary employees," he said. "They often expect too little of them."

Once women get into the swing of temporary jobs, they find it interesting and exhilarating to move from one office to another, meeting new people and learning new techniques, Graham said. "They start complaining when a job lasts too long."

A Widow Sets Tour For The Students From Abroad

KNOXVILLE Tenn. (UPI)—An Indian student at the University of Tennessee wants to take a ride on a roller coaster. She shall have it.

"In can already see her sari trailing in the breeze," said Mrs. Loretta D. Pruett, who is helping with transportation. Some of the students never go anywhere because they can't afford it," said Mrs. Pruett.

"We have other problems, too. The Hindus are vegetarians so we must prepare chabbati (Indian bread) and potato curries to take along," Mrs. Pruett cooks Indian foods every day for her Hindu boarders. Most of the students are from the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

How did it all get started? "As a result of a United Press story in 1957, a woman in Racine, Wis., wrote and asked what she could do to help. I wrote some letters and the answers I got were enthusiastic," she said.

Mrs. Pruett and her flock will visit Roanoke, Richmond, Arlington and Alexandria, Va.; Washington, D.C.; Plainfield, N. J.; Niagara Falls and New York City, N. Y.; Detroit, Mich.; via Canada; Racine, Wis.; Des Moines, Iowa; Kansas City, Kan.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Dallas and Mount Pleasant, Texas; New Orleans, La.; Mobile, Ala.; Pensacola, Fla.; and Atlanta, Ga.

She said some of the students go home after four years of study without ever seeing the inside of an American home.

"What these students want most of all is to meet the American, to see American homes, and get a better understanding of American attitudes," said Mrs. Pruett, a widow.

"I don't think Americans are as distant as these students think," she said.

Among special requests for this trip is the roller coaster

A Taffy Pulling Bee Interests Children

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

SALT-WATER TAFFY was born in the 1880s at a New Jersey seaside resort. It's been going strong ever since, with small fry all over the country voting for it.

What makes this candy win friends and influence so many youngsters?

Our guess is that its popularity lies in its soft but chewy texture, bland flavor and rainbow colors.

Dip into a salt-water taffy far! Each pretty piece is individually wrapped in paper with twisted ends. To our mind salt-water taffy wouldn't taste the same without this traditional wrapping. Twirl open the ends of the paper between your thumbs and fingers, pop the sweet morsel into your mouth!

What color do you choose? Colors are often the key to flavors. A green piece may be savor of mint. Lemon and orange taffy look sunny and their flavors may match their names. Pink may be for those who favor vanilla, white for those who adore almond.

When we looked into candy-making cook books to compare recipes for salt-water taffy, we got a surprise. Author-experts such as Professor Walter W. Chenoweth and J. H. DeGros include cornstarch. This trick is borrowed from commercial candy-making and its function is to trap air into the mixture during its pulling and help control stickiness. Our recipe is adapted from Professor Chenoweth's.

If you make a batch of this taffy, work it yourself until it's ready to pull. Then divide the candy into several portions and let your small fry go to it. A taffy-pulling bee is a grand old-fashioned American pastime and kids enjoy every minute of it, including the job of wrapping it in waxed paper and twisting the ends!

PINK SALT-WATER TAFFY
Ingredients: 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons corn starch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons vanilla, red food coloring.

Method: In a medium-sized heavy saucepan stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add corn syrup, water and butter; mix well. Over moderate heat bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Over the same heat cook—without stirring until syrup tests 260 degrees on a candy thermometer or 1/2 teaspoon of the mixture dropped into 1 cup of very cold water can be formed with fingers into a firm or rather hard but pliable ball. Remove from heat; add vanilla and 2 drops of red food coloring; stir gently until blended. Pour into a buttered pan (9 by 9 by 2, or 12 by 8 by 2 inches); do not scrape last of syrup from pan. Let stand undisturbed until cool enough to handle. Gather into a ball on pan with fingers and knead a few seconds; pull and twist until taffy is satiny and a pale color. Pull into 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick strands; with kitchen scissors cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces. Wrap individually in waxed paper; twist ends. Makes almost a pound. Substitute other colors and flavors to suit taste.

Marin Women

Independent-Journal, Tuesday, August 9, 1960 15

CUTTING THE CAKE at the reception which followed their recent marriage in St. Paul's Church in San Rafael are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charles Regan. The bride, the former Carole Ann Bennett, is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Dante W. Bennette of Novato.

Extras Add Appeal To Outdoor Meal

Though outdoor eating in summer is informal and relaxed, none of the gracious little extras need be eliminated from the table when you entertain.

Be sure to provide plenty of seating space for guests around a large picnic table or several smaller tables. Use inexpensive and colorful cloths and napkins that harmonize with blooming garden flowers and greenery. And don't forget the iced water glasses and necessary silver.

While your menu may well be less elaborate than that served at the dining room table, it need be no less appealing. Choose a casserole dish, baked ahead in the kitchen even, for example, to accompany the barbecued meat. It will help make your meal more robust.

Mix a big tossed salad at the barbecue site, if you wish, so that you can coat it with dressing at the last minute.

Keep dessert simple but good, too, such as an assortment of fresh fruits and cheese. Then have plenty of iced tea or hot coffee to pass with after dinner mints. Party patties or jelly center mints will provide the just-right sweet touch for the end of an informal outdoor meal.

Broiled Meats

Broiled meats should not be seasoned until after browning. Chops and steaks should be broiled on one side, seasoned, turned, broiled on second side and seasoned. If seasoned before browning, moisture is brought to the cut lean surface of the meat and prevents its burning.

Pixie Parents Plan Tea For New Members

When newly-elected officers of Pixie Parents Inc. met recently at the San Anselmo home of Mrs. Charles E. Bodington, president, they made plans for the new members' tea to be held Thursday, Sept. 15, at the San Rafael home of Mrs. S. K. Herzog, Jr. Prospective members as well as old members are welcome at this annual event.

Members of the Pixie Parents board now include Mesdames Bodington, president; Kenneth Duncan, vice president; Malcolm M. Clark, secretary; E. A. Lankenau, treasurer; Ray Beddow, operations chairman; Jerrol Flood, member at large.

Serving as chairman for the coming year are the Mesdames Remy Burkel, birthday reservations; Robert Kahl, Christmas cupboard; Edward Balatti, Easter Fair; C. A. McGee, equipment repair; James McKenney, fashion show; Gordon Lehnker, gardening; A. P. Otto Jr., hours; Robert Lockner, historian; Gerald Williams, membership; Richard Kure, paved areas; Andrew Baxes, pavilion; Fred Brylka, Patter editor; Dick O'Brien, printer; William Epstein, publicity; and James Farley, playground sand and tanbark.

Business Women's Group Takes Trek

Betty Weaver entertained members of the Past Presidents Association of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County at a luncheon Sunday at Del Monte Lodge. This preceded a meeting of the association at the nearby Robert Louis Stevenson School of which Mrs. Weaver is executive secretary. Dorothy Brown was elected president of the association and Eulalie Field, secretary.

Some of the members went down Saturday to spend the night on the Monterey Peninsula. The others motored down on Sunday. In the group were Mary Summers, Dorothy Brown, Daisy Grant, Bessie Walsh, Letha Jenkins, Ada Fusselman, Eulalie Field, Ella Lossius, Barbara Hansen, Frances Mason, Dorothy Olsen. Also present was Dr. Betty Fawcett, who now lives in San Jose.

Letters from members unable to attend were read. These were Hortense Buck, now living in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Ora Lee Schuster, Lura Edna Ross and Mary Ford.

Mrs. Summers invited the members to hold their 1961 meeting at her home in Kent Woodlands.

Tiny Tree Farmer Banking Earnings From Her Forest

CROSBY, Miss. (UPI)—The nation's youngest certified tree farmer lives here.

Her name is Linda Malloy. She is 18 months old.

Linda's 20-acre tree farm in Amite County is growing forest products that will pay for her college education when they go to market.

For the time being, Linda's technical advisor and business manager is her forester-father, L. H. Malloy.

Linda's timberlands already have yielded a harvest of posts and pulpwood. And with the planting last season of 15,000 pine seedlings, the future is promising more harvests expected to build up the college fund.

The pint-sized tree farmer isn't the only member of the Molloy clan with an eye on the timber growing business. Her sisters—Julia Lee, 14, and Patty Ann, 13—also have tree farms.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 9, the 222nd day of the year, with 144 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Mercury.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1831, the first train in the U. S. to be drawn by a steam locomotive made its run between Albany and Schenectady, N. Y.

In 1902, Queen Victoria's son, the Prince of Wales, was crowned King Edward VII of Great Britain, following his mother's death.

In 1945, the second atom bomb was dropped on Japan, this one on the city of Nagasaki, killing 40,000, injuring 80,000.

A thought for today: British author Isaac Walton said:
"As no man is born an artist, so no man is born an angler."

PREVIEW OF PLANKS

What Will Brown Ask Legislature?

SACRAMENTO (AP)—What laws will Gov. Edmund G. Brown ask of the legislature which convenes next January? He said recently he won't announce his program until after the Nov. 8 election, or maybe not until he delivers his message to the lawmakers.

But from statements he has made it is possible to put together some planks of the governor's personal program.

He has said it may not jibe entirely with the platform adopted recently by the state Democratic Party. He said he thought that was "an excellent platform and I agree with it."

"However," he told a news conference, "there will be places where there may be modifications by reason of fiscal situations and things such as that."

Here are some things the governor has indicated he wants:

Old age pensions—Some improvements not spelled out beyond saying "the elderly folks in this state have legitimate aspirations that neither the federal nor the state governments have taken care of." (June 10 after presidential primary in which pension promoter George McLain got 646,387 votes.)

Relatives' responsibility—"I favor a modification of the present relatives responsibility law, but to what extent I am not prepared to say." (May 6, countering McLain's complaint that Brown had not put the question before the 1960 special session.)

Minimum wage for farm workers—"I intend at the next session or as soon as I can to continue the fight." (April 28, 1959, after the Senate Labor Committee had killed his bill for a farm wage floor reduced from $1.25 to 90 cents per hour.)

Farmers—"There must be some legislation to protect the farmer from these strikes at the time of harvest." (Jan. 23, 1960, when canneries were struck at peak of apricot harvest.)

Capital punishment—"I'll never be satisfied until capital punishment is repealed." (May 13, after legislature refused to abolish death penalty during Chessman case.)

Clemency—"I would favor a constitutional amendment that would give to the governor...

the right to exercise executive clemency without restriction." (May 6, explaining his belief that people did not understand he needed concurrence of Supreme Court in any Chessman commutation.)

State employees—"I'd like to see a health insurance program for the state employees too." (April 29.)

Oil severance tax—"Well, I'd rather wait and see how our budget looks at that time." (June 12, 1959, when asked if he planned to reoffer oil tax bill which legislature had just defeated.)

Narcotics—Governor has appointed special crime commission to study and make recommendations on whether search and seizure law and other statutes pertaining to narcotics should be changed.

Government reorganization—Brown has said he will submit a program for overhauling state government to 1961 legislature but has not indicated how far it will go.

New Tract Under Way At Greenbrae

Grading has been completed and installation of sewers and street work are under way in Bon Air Subdivision 4 at Greenbrae.

The new subdivision is part of a 90-acre tract on the south and east slopes of Bon Air Hill with view of Mount Tamapais, the Corte Madera marshlands and San Francisco Bay.

Construction will begin next week on a model apartment building, first of a planned addition to the present 280 Bon Air apartments.

Designed by architect R. R. Zahm for Schultz Construction Co., the new building will have four apartments each to its three floors. Each apartment will have an individual floor plan. All will have two bathrooms with either two or three bedrooms.

Individual terraces and balconies will be built out to the sheltered south side. A bridge will lead from the street to the second floor.

State Puts Reservoir Up For Sale

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Want to buy a reservoir in a mountain valley?

The state announced yesterday it will sell Tule Lake Reservoir in Lassen County and considerable nearby property to the highest bidder on Sept. 30.

The minimum acceptable bid is $110,000 payable within 90 days.

In all, 5,214 acres are for sale. Tule Lake has 1,774. Most of the rest of the land, with the exception of two lots in the town of Madeline is in the old Madeline Plains migratory bird refuge.

Two cabins, two residences and a number of other buildings of the headquarters area are included in the deal.

Water and electricity is available and the whole parcel is within two miles of U.S. Highway 395, about 40 miles north of Susanville.

About 10,000 years ago, the time the Ice Age ended in Europe and America, the Sahara Desert was a land of abundant rivers and fertile plains.

Despite The Discomforts, It's Fun To Camp Out On Vacation

Are you on vacation now? I'm on mine.

How's your backache? And your sunburn? Me, I'm sore all over. My family is camping in some wild country. We sleep on nature's bosom. It's some bosom. Rocky, steep and covered with crawling things.

Do you enjoy the fauna of the wild? I do, provided the fauna is pint-sized. But when it turns out to be big black bears running loose, I'm not so sure. I looked a bear in the eye. He looked right back, and went "woof." Neither of us was in a cage. Brother!

The flora? The flora is tricky, too. Beware of the pretty, shiny little green vines you see on the ground. Don't touch! Poison ivy. Watch out for the big light green leaves on delicate looking bushes around streams. Nettles. Ouch!

Trial Of 3 In Smuggling Case Delayed

The trial of three San Franciscans charged with conspiring to smuggle drugs and letters for San Quentin Prison inmates was postponed for two weeks by a Marin Superior Court judge yesterday.

Robert F. McKellar, 33-year-old former prison counselor; Theodore Edison Sr., 59, a stationery engineer, and Edison's wife, Juliette, 45, waived formal arraignment and were released on their own recognizance.

They are scheduled to appear for plea on Aug. 22 before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli.

Two San Quentin convicts, Leo E. Nelson and William G. Flynn, appeared in superior court on charges of conspiracy and escape.

The pair are accused of smashing through the prison's west gates in a dump truck and speeding to Kentfield where they were surrounded and captured last April.

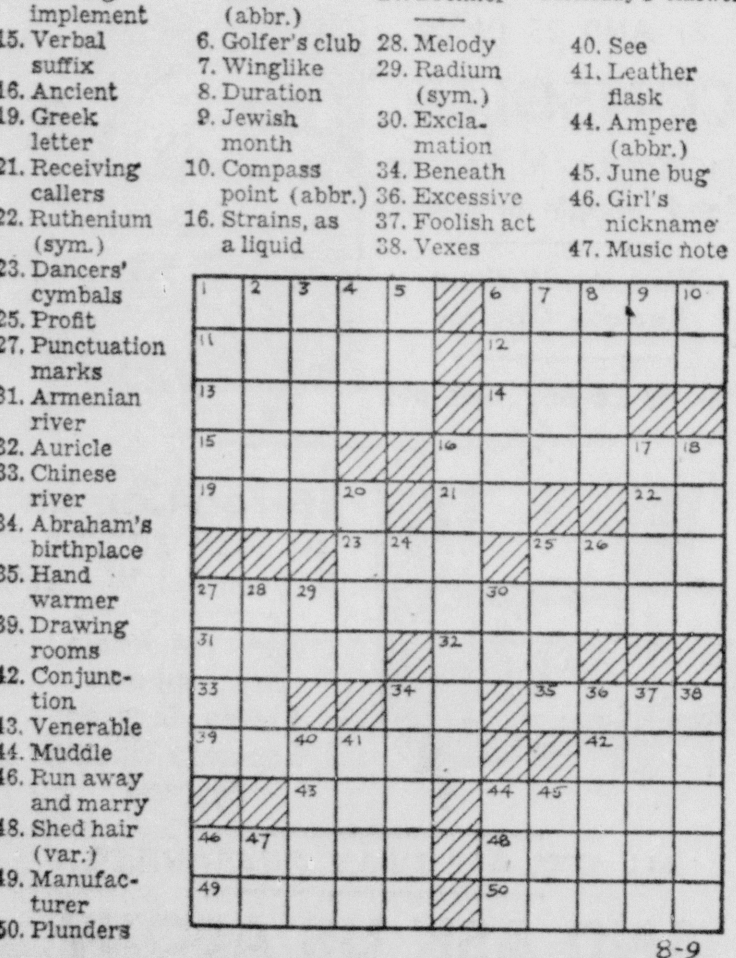

Their arraignment and plea was delayed for two weeks.

The arraignment of Winifred Howard, another inmate, who unsuccessfully attempted to escape from the prison last February, was continued for one week.

Hotel's 'Godmother' Plans Return Visit

LONDON (AP)—After 46 years, Mrs. Victoria French Allen of Palo Alto is going to have another look at the Belgian hotel of which she is "godmother."

It is the Hotel Noble Rose, in Fumes, where she slept for three nights in December, 1914.

There was a hole in the ceiling, where a German shell had punctured it, and I could see the stars from my pillow," Mrs. Allen recalled. "The first World War was just gaining momentum and we were in the little corner of Belgium near the English Channel which had not been occupied."

Mrs. Allen's husband, Ben S. Allen, at the time was a correspondent for the Associated Press and a personal representative of Herbert Hoover, whose European relief mission was getting started.

Belgian King Albert wanted to hand an American a letter of thanks to Hoover and to the American people for the assistance being given to Belgium. Allen went to get the letter and a story.

"I went along, starting from London, and that was the start of my becoming godmother to a hotel," said Mrs. Allen, now visiting London with her husband.

"A little British boat took us to Calais where Belgian officers in a car met us. There was some apprehension among them when they saw there was a woman in the party, but the chief officer finally accepted—a little dubiously—an explanation that it's impossible to keep an American woman out of anything."

King Albert's headquarters at the time were at Fumes. The Hotel Noble Rose was used by his political and military staff. The Allens stayed in the room with the hole in the ceiling and gallant officers found a loaf of white bread for Mrs. Allen.

"I really preferred the wartime loaf, which had a molasses taste," she said. The business with the king was concluded. Allen has his story and the letter, which the king wrote by hand. The Allens left and later the Noble Rose was smashed in a bombardment.

The war ended, American sympathy for Belgium continued. A number of American hotel men got together on a little relief project of their own. They raised money to rebuild a Belgium hotel, and they chose the Noble Rose.

Santa Barbara Yacht Harbor Loan Passed

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—A $700,000 state loan for expansion of the Santa Barbara Yacht Harbor was approved yesterday at a one-day session of the California Small Craft Harbors Commission.

Lachen M. Richards, chief of the division of smaller craft harbors, said the loan would finance the first phase of a multi-million-dollar program calling for extension of the present breakwater and construction of more berthing facilities.

The commission also voted to ask the Legislature for six more full-time men as part of a boating safety education program designed to combat an increase in waterway accidents.

In another safety matter, the group discussed the possibility of developing small refuge harbors along the coast where boats in distress could take cover. Members, however, pointed out that they had no funds for such a program and to implement it would require new legislation.

Revolution-sized Arms Cache Taken

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two Newport Beach men—arrested with what federal agents called "arms enough to start a revolution"—have pleaded no contest.

A judge yesterday set Sept. 19 for sentencing of Brian Timothy Sullivan, 27, and Stanley D. McDade, 35, arrested June 14 for violating the national firearms act.

Federal agents said they were loading a cache of weapons and more than 10,000 rounds of ammunition aboard their 71-foot schooner for a trip to the Red Sea area. They said it was for protection against pirates.

Mrs. Allen was consulted. A book relating to the hotel's long history and describing the project was dedicated to her. The hotel was rebuilt, a gift from America. The donors called Mrs. Allen its godmother.

"Now I'm going back, the first week of September," said Mrs. Allen.

"I haven't told anyone in Fumes, and don't want a fuss," she said. "But I look forward to some bread that tastes like molasses."

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE SALE
No. 52473
On Tuesday, the 16th day of August, 1960, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P.M., of said day, at the Fourth Street entrance of the Court House in the City of San Francisco, County of Marin, State of California, MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, a corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, money, or its equivalent, all payable at the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated in the City of Fairfax, County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point which bears North 39° 03' West 100 feet from the most Southerly corner of the tract of land conveyed by Henry M. Frustuck to R. J. Frustuck, his wife, to Rose E. Anderson, by Deed recorded March 5, 1927 in Liber 114 of Official Records, at page 112; running thence from said point of beginning, South 36° 31' East 145.7 feet, to the Easterly line of Valley Road; running thence along the Easterly line of said Road, North 47° 33' West 50 feet, to the Easterly line of said Road, running North 36° 31' East 145.7 feet, and South 39° 03' East 40 feet to the point of beginning.

Being shown as Lot Number 26 on the certain unrecorded map entitled, "Map No. 2 of Fairfax Park Tract, surveyed by C. H. Towle in the year 1923."

Said sale will be made without covenant, distant title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by HENRY M. FRUSTUCK and JANE REIKE, co-trustors, to MARIN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of JOSEPH E. BARICKLO, as beneficiary. The said RICKLO, his wife, as joint tenants, dated December 2, 1953 and recorded December 3, 1953, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Liber 839 of Official Records at page 107.

Dated July 15, 1960.

Winter Session
For Retarded Set

Mrs. Ruth Decker, former teacher of special education, will again teach the winter session of the nursery school operated by Marin Aid to Retarded Children at Arquipa, beginning Sept. 6.

This nursery school offers pre-school training for mentally retarded children. It operates five days a week, from 9:30 a.m. to noon with a limited enrollment. Parents interested in registering their children may call Mrs. Donald Taylor, Mill Valley.

There have been 14 weddings in the White House.

Pianist Will Be 3rd Artist
On Music Chest Schedule

Eugene Istomin, young American pianist who has played at many of the world's great concert houses, will give a recital in Forest Meadows on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael, Aug. 21, at 3 p.m. Istomin is the third artist on the Marin Music Chest summer series. This marks his first appearance under Music Chest auspices.

Istomin made his first public appearance at the age of 6 as accompanist for his mother in a recital of gypsy music. After studying at Manhattan's Professional Children's School, he entered the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia in 1939 at the age of 14 and four years later won the Philadelphia Orchestra youth contest, the prize SURE, I KNOW YOU!—The clown is a genuine circus clown, but he can't fool Doneil Hoekman, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoekman of Novato. Doneil correctly pegged the clown visiting his bed in San Rafael General Hospital as Paul Magee, hospital orderly.

HE LED DOUBLE LIFE

Hospital Aide Recalls
His Days As Clown

Patients and employees at San Rafael General Hospital were startled recently to see a circus clown striding down the hall.

The clown stopped at a room on the second floor and entered. Nine-year-old Doneil Hoekman of Novato looked up from his dinner tray and grinned.

"Do you know me?" asked the clown.

"Sure I do," answered Doneil after a minute. "You're the orderly."

"That's right," said the visitor. "But I used to be a clown in a circus."

The orderly-clown is Paul Magee, San Rafael resident and orderly at San Rafael Hospital for the past year and a half. He took part of a day off from hospital duties to don clown costume and makeup for the first time in 20 years.

After chatting with Doneil for a few minutes, Magee went with director of nurses Patricia Leonard on a tour of the hospital to cheer up other patients.

Magee's fellow staffers at the hospital learned only recently of his interesting past. He saw a movie with a circus background and the next day, during a coffee break at the hospital, related some of his own circus experiences.

For six years, he told them, he led a double life. He worked as an orderly in a Southern California hospital from mid-November until the first of April, and traveled with a circus the rest of the time.

He was 23 when he joined the circus.

"I wanted to travel," he says, "and I got my wish. We covered thousands of miles every season on a route that took us through the entire western United States and across Canada."

Magee was with the Al G. Barnes and Sels Floto Combined Circus, which had winter quarters in Baldwin Park.

"I was a waiter in the dining tent at first," he recalls. "The next season I signed up as a clown. I was an elephant man for awhile, too."

It was a railroad show and played mostly one-day stops, with longer stays in the larger cities. It played San Rafael regularly each season.

The circus traveled in a special train of some 50 cars, usually in two sections. Magee vividly recalls the excitement of pulling into a new town early in the morning, seeing the dining and cook tents go up first, then the menagerie tent and big top, and the other tents.

During one stop in an Ontario town, the circus was in the path of a baby cyclone which ripped the big top, dining and cook tents to pieces in a few minutes.

"Fortunately," he says, "the menagerie tent wasn't up yet and the animals were still in their cages—so none escaped. But we had to give the show in the open until we got a new big top."

Magee led the double life of a clown and orderly from 1933 until 1939, when the circus was taken over by the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey organization. He was one of the troupe without enough seniority, and lost his job. Since then he has been doing full-time hospital work.

"But I just might go back to the circus some day," he says. "I had always heard it gets into your blood, and it does."

Contest In Dairy
Judging Set At Fair In Petaluma

PETALUMA — Another "first" for the Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma, Thursday through Sunday, has been announced by Art Canavan, secretary-manager.

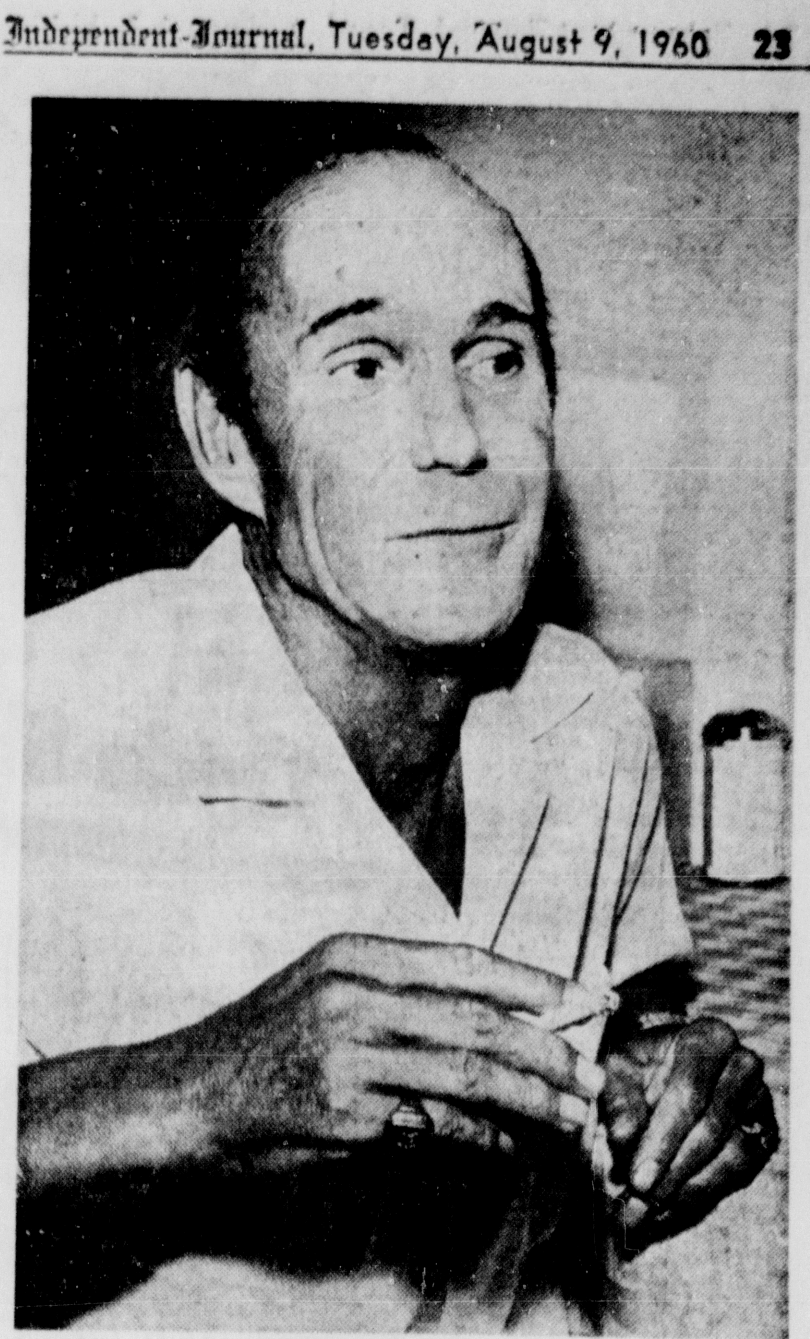

On Friday at 7 p.m., dairy judging teams, composed of 4-H Club and Future Farmer members, will compete in the first team dairy judging contest ever presented at a California fair.

No advance entry is required. Team members and leaders or instructors will meet at the dairy show ring at 7 p.m. for registration and instructions.

A perpetual trophy and a permanent plaque will be awarded to the first place team and a trophy to the high scoring individual. Ribbons will be awarded to the second and third place teams and to individuals from second through fifth place.

IN USUAL COSTUME—For six years during the '30s, Paul Magee swapped the uniform of a hospital orderly during the winter for that of an Al G. Barnes-Sels Floto circus clown during the summer. Now, the orderly's coat is his year-around garb at San Rafael General Hospital. (Independent-Journal photos)
